Eden Wants UN to Police Troubled Palestine Area

U.K. Plan to End Arab-Jew Warfare Has U.S. Backing

LONDON (UP)—The United States, Britain and France will open negotiations in Washington Wednesday on joint action for bringing peace to the Middle East, the Foreign Office announced today.

The Foreign Office said the talks would be at ambassador level. The meeting was arranged during the recent conference between Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and President Eisenhower.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Eden today proposed an unarmed, multi-nation force under the United Nations to help oversee the truce in Palestine.

He told a press conference that if the 50-man truce team in Palestine under Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Ottawa is enlarged, it is the British view that the observers be recruited from "all sorts of nations."

He added that there has been no proposal that Canada take on such a job alone and that he will not discuss with Canadian leaders any possible Canadian contribution to a Palestine security force.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said any increase in Gen. Burns' truce team should be a matter for the governments concerned—Israel and the Arab states. There could be no attempt to impose such a plan on them.

Both he and Sir Anthony made plain that recommendations for a larger force should come directly from the United Nations.

Sir Anthony made these other points:

1. The more the West sticks together, the better chances of success in the cold war.

2. Trade between Canada and the United Kingdom can't grow unless there is a better balance of trade between the two countries.

WORTHWHILE TRIP

3. His visit to North America was "infinitely" worthwhile and his trip to Ottawa was of "immense value."

4. The British invitation to Premier Bulganin and Communist party secretary Khrushchev of Russia to visit Britain this spring "stands."

5. Britain is obtaining views of other countries concerned on the Chinese communist proposal to hold a conference on Indo-China.

6. British recognition of Red China has been "useful—and not only to us."

Sir Anthony declined to reply to a question whether he would favor Canadian participation in the Palestine security force.

But he spoke highly, as he did in his address to Parliament Monday, of Canada's role in helping to preserve the armistice in Indo-China.

AGREED ON INCREASE

Sir Anthony noted Britain and the United States have said they are "very ready" to agree to a strengthening of Gen. Burns' force in Palestine.

Mr. Lloyd said there now are 40 to 60 truce observers under Gen. Burns. But they did not work in a preventive role.

But if Israel and the Arab states would each withdraw about a mile from the frontiers and if there were observers available to patrol this zone, there would be less chance of incidents occurring. Whether the observers should be armed would be up to the UN but it was the British view they should be unarmed.

Sir Anthony said that under the 1950 agreement Britain, the U.S. and France guaranteed the present Israeli-Arab boundaries. If agreement could be reached between Israel and the Arabs on new boundaries, the Big Three would be prepared to guarantee them.

Asked whether Israel should give up any of its territory as part of an agreement, Sir Anthony said that all he has stated is that there must be reconciliation and compromise between the two sides. He could not go beyond that.

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Four days of celebrating, including a garden party, a ball, fireworks and a reception at the palace, are planned to mark the wedding of Prince Rainier III and movie star Grace Kelly April 18 and 19.

The festivities were announced today following official word from the prince confirming the wedding dates given in Hollywood by Miss Kelly's secretary.

Sturdy Stands Behind Action

Vancouver Lawyer Files Defence In Sommers Suit for Libel

Vancouver lawyer David A. Sturdy Monday filed statement of defence in the Sommers-Sturdy libel and slander action.

The statement of defence was filed in Supreme Court registry at Vancouver.

It alleges statements Mr. Sturdy made before Chief Justice Gordon Sloan's royal commission on forestry were true and made without malice.

The statement further contends the appearance before the Sloan commission was an occasion of qualified privilege. It sets out Mr. Sturdy's defence in detail, on three and one-half typewritten pages.

Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers has filed suit against Mr. Sturdy, claiming damages for alleged libel and slander, for statements made before the Sloan commission.

Mr. Sturdy's statement of defence asks dismissal of the action, and costs.

Canada Unprepared For A-Attack--Simonds

Failure to Organize Nation's Manpower Criticized by Former Chief of Staff

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—Canada is hopelessly unprepared to meet the threat of an atomic attack because political leaders in this country will not face up to the problem of organizing national manpower, Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, former chief of the Canadian general staff, said Monday night.

Simonds blamed the country's lack of leadership in preparing for an emergency on the "sad history" of Quebec's opposition in the past to conscription. He said there is no political leader of any party in Canada who will come out and stand for organization of national manpower.

"If there is going to be leadership, it must come from you the people—from the country itself," he said in a speech to the Men's Canadian Club.

Simonds said the idea of not provoking an issue with Quebec on the question now, because Quebecers would rally to the defence of Canada in an emergency, was a "false argument."

The former army chief said the differences between the Communist countries and the western powers were "irreconcilable," and "peaceful co-existence can only be a form of armed truce."

Simonds said a lot of trouble in Canada in the past had been caused by a "bigoted group among English-speaking Canadians" which was not prepared to accept the French-speaking Canadian "as he is."

Simonds said that from his own observation, French-Canadians in the army were "first class".

"They have a right to follow their own culture and religious habits as they wish," he said. "I believe given this freedom, the resistance (to conscription) will disappear."

He said that Canada is confronted "with the choice of national disunity or national survival."

Dulles Firm Against Arms To Israel

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today stood firm against strong congressional pressure on him to approve new U.S. arms shipments to Israel.

Dulles, answering an open letter from 40 house Republicans and a separate request from 86 Democrats urging the arms sales, said sending weapons to Israel would be no cure-all for the problem of peace in the Middle East.

Dulles emphasized he was not ruling out the possibility that the United States eventually may grant Israel's request. But, he said, "it is our belief that the security of states in the Near East cannot rest upon arms alone but rather upon the international rule of law and upon the establishment of friendly relations among neighbors."

FDR's Son Asks U.S. to Guarantee Palestine Borders

VANCOUVER (BUP) — The eldest son of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt said members of the U.S. House of Representatives were preparing a petition today asking President Eisenhower to guarantee the borders of Israel.

Rep. James Roosevelt (D, Calif.) spoke to some 1,000 people at Vancouver's Beth Israel Synagogue to wind up a "State of Israel" bond drive.

Roosevelt said Eisenhower would also be urged to allow Israel to buy $50,000,000 worth of armaments from the United States.

Chin-Strap On Cap Kills Burnaby Boy

By BRITISH UNITED PRESS

Six persons have lost their lives in various types of mishaps throughout British Columbia in the past 36 hours.

The deaths included that of a New Westminster logger accidentally shot at Deep Cove; a 5½-year-old North Burnaby boy who accidentally hanged himself by the chin-strap of his leather cap; a domestic gas victim in Vancouver; a five-month-old Vancouver child; an apparent heart attack victim at Vancouver, and a Prince George tractor operator.

At Deep Cove, the RCMP reported that a 27-year-old New Westminster logger apparently accidentally shot and killed himself Monday.

The victim was not immediately identified pending notification of next of kin.

Police said the victim and a companion were aboard a 30-foot fishing boat and the logger was shooting at targets in the water when the accident occurred.

HANGED BY CAP

Roger Fairfax, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Fairfax, was playing in a shed with a group of children. When he fell his leather cap snagged a nail protruding from a rafter and the child was strangled by the chin strap before he could be released.

In Vancouver, 72-year-old Mrs. A. Rees was found dead Monday, apparently a victim of domestic gas poisoning in her home. And the five-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Parker was found dead in his baby carriage from undetermined causes.

Alexander M. Leither was found dead in his downtown Vancouver room Monday, and it was believed he died from a heart attack.

Police at Prince George reported a 36-year-old tractor operator was killed when he fell in front of his machine Sunday near Longworth, B.C. Identification was temporarily withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

U.K.'s Nye To Get Heave-Ho For 'Indiscreet' Speeches?

By RONALD A. NICKERSON

OTTAWA (BUP) — Parliament Hill buzzed today with rumors that Sir Archibald Nye, Britain's high commissioner here, might be recalled because of "indiscretions" creating a coolness between him and the Canadian government.

Reports circulated that a Nye speech made to the Montreal Women's Canadian Club last week was discussed in private talks Monday by British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson.

The speech received little coverage by the press. Copies of it were scarce and it was reliably learned that it took Pearson himself 48 hours to get a copy of it after it had been delivered, whereas the normal practice is for advance copies to be made available to his department.

Among remarks made by Nye in the speech—he made essentially the same one later at Quebec City—were these:

SIR ARCHIBALD NYE . . . out of turn?

"It is almost universally believed that those Western powers who did not recognize the new Chinese government made a great mistake.

CHARGES DISCRIMINATION

"It is constantly stressed . . . that the Communist government in China is indisputably the government of China and . . . to withhold recognition is wholly contrary to diplomatic practice as we have known it for hundreds of years and therefore amounts to nothing more or less than discrimination.

"It is held that non-recognition is a foolish policy.

"Asia is a bubbling, seething cauldron.

"Siam is a thoroughly unstable country.

"Indonesia is in chaos.

"Pakistan is extremely unstable.

"It is anybody's guess what will become of Indo-China.

"Japan is a bewildered country which has lost its faith.

"India is . . . (perhaps) the most stable country in Asia, due very laregly to the trained administrators left behind by the British regime in 1947."

Nye's speech was given during the time Eden and Lloyd were holding talks in Washington with President Eisenhower and other U.S. leaders. It also came at the same time that a foreign affairs debate was going on in the House of Commons here.

Nye's excursion into the realm of policy matters—with recognition of Red China particularly a hot political issue in both Canada and the United States—was regarded by government sources here as "highly improper" for one in his position.

Nye's utterances on political questions — traditionally soft-pedalled by diplomats away from home—could easily hasten his departure from the Canadian capital, most observers believed.

The frigid silence of the East Block lent strong credence to the reports.

Father Jailed For Tragic Fire

DUNCAN — Joseph Daniel George, 36, father of a 19-month-old child which lost its life when the George home was destroyed by fire on Nov. 19, was sentenced to six months in jail today by Magistrate A. C. Sutton.

The court case was an aftermath of "accidental death" verdict returned by a coroner's jury at the inquest into the baby's death at the time.

When arraigned in court Monday George pleaded guilty to a charge of "exposing a child under the age of 10 years whereby its life was in danger."

It is believed that George was charged on instructions from the attorney-general's department to the Duncan detachment of the RCMP following an interchange of letters between Ottawa and Victoria.

At the inquest, the father admitted to leaving his three children, aged six, five and 19 months, alone while he and his wife went into Duncan. He learned his house was on fire from a taxi driver and when he arrived at his home only charred rafters were left.

George had told the inquest jury that he had left the six-year-old girl to "take care of things."

J. Boys, Indian superintendent here, informed the magistrate that George had been warned before about leaving his children alone.

Mother Dies After Refusing Blood On Advice of Witness Leader

ENGLEHART, Ont. (CP) — Denied vital blood transfusions by religious principles, a young mother of five children died Monday of internal bleeding.

Mrs. James Grant, 29-year-old farm wife of a Jehovah's Witness, refused to accept a blood transfusion after a car crash Sunday night. Her husband, also injured in the crash, said he could not violate his religious tenets unless his spiritual leader approved.

Farmer Lionel Anyan, Witness leader in this community near Kirkland Lake, was urged by a sister and the mother of the severely injured woman to permit a transfusion. He declined.

"I cannot go against my faith," he told Mrs. Clara Rock, the woman's mother.

Mr. Anyan told reporters he made his decision on the basis of the biblical admonition "Ye shall eat no manner of blood." (Leviticus 7.26.)

Anyan said Mrs. Grant made "a wonderful decision" and added: "She realized that if she were to save her life with a blood transfusion, then she would lose her life at Armagedon."

Mrs. Grant's sister, Mrs. T. J. Brown, said a doctor told her the injured woman "could have been saved by blood transfusions."

An inquest is to be held Wednesday.

In Toronto, Dr. Glenn Sawyer of the Ontario Medical Association said today Mrs. Grant was "perfectly justified" in her refusal to have a transfusion.

"Patients are entitled to take or refuse treatment and doctors must abide by their decision," he said.

Percy Chapman, superintendent of ministers and evangelists for the Witnesses of Jehovah, said: "It should be made plain that our views on blood are not simply whims of Jehovah's Witnesses. God's word, in the Bible, is very clear on this matter.

"We will abide by that law, even if others regard it as foolish."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

FOR THE GIFT of speech we thank Thee, O God. Each day we have opportunity to speak words of truth and sympathy. Christ has told us that by our words we shall be justified or condemned. We fear the penalty of our idle words. May the meditations of our hearts be so pure that our words may be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, our strength and our redeemer; in Christ's name. Amen.

Nanaimo Forms Area Sewer Board

City, Harewood to Share Cost Of Preliminary District Survey

NANAIMO—Definite steps were taken by city council Monday night towards setting up a metropolitan sewer board aimed at establishment of a city and district sewage system patterned after Vancouver's $50,000,000 sewage plan.

Council approved and adopted agreements reached at a meeting of council in committee as a whole with representatives of Harewood Improvement District and Greater Nanaimo Water District.

F. C. Stewart, consulting engineer, will be approached regarding a preliminary survey to include Nanaimo, Harewood, Departure Bay, Northfield, Chase River and other areas deemed necessary. Nanaimo and Harewood will share survey costs on a 60-40 basis, with the water board acting as agent for both.

GROWING PROBLEM

The acuteness of the city and district sewage problem has been increasingly felt over the past three years. Action has been spurred recently by the refusal of NHA to permit further construction where sewage outlets are lacking.

A letter from the health officer, Dr. E. W. R. Best, complained of the abundance of deep open ditches as a danger to the health of playing children.

During a three-month period in the summer of 1953 a comprehensive harbor survey of currents, tides, and winds as they may affect sewage disposal was conducted by Dr. Jack Tully of the Pacific Biological Station, with assistance from Sea Cadets, navy personnel, Nanaimo Yacht Club and private boat owners.

VICTORIANS IGNORE PAIN AT REHEARSAL

NANAIMO (CP) — Four Victoria members of the Nanaimo symphony orchestra showed Sunday night they believe the show must go on no matter what happens.

The four appeared for rehearsal suffering severe facial lacerations and abrasions following a two-car collision, en route here from Victoria.

Injured were Earl Hobson, clarinetist; trumpet player Arnold Mason, viola player Harry Hobson and trombone player William Fry.

Lack of Mirror Costs Driver $25

SOOKE—Failure to obey the restrictions on his driver's licence cost Roy M. Alexander $25 and costs when he appeared in police court before Magistrate F. Thornber Saturday.

Alexander is restricted to driving vehicles provided with a side mirror as well as the usual rear-view mirrow mounted above the windshield.

Fred Halliwell, Victoria, was fined $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of exceeding the speed limit in a 30-mile zone. Robert Johnson of Langford was let off with a warning after he admitted that he had been driving without his licence in his possession, the document having been left at home by mistake.

Cabbie Fined $50 In Crosswalk Mishap

Two men were fined in city police court Monday on careless driving charges.

Heaviest penalty was imposed on taxi driver Kenneth E. Arnold, 723 Yates, who was fined $50 or seven days in jail on a charge arising from an accident at a crosswalk manned by junior safety patrol members.

Court was told the accused was in collision with Ella May Jazlowiecki, 7, while driving north on Quadra at North Park on Jan. 24.

BROKEN SHOULDER

The girl was knocked 47 feet and received a fractured shoulder.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall remanded Arnold to Thursday regarding possible licence suspension.

Henry Kasper, 552 Davida, was fined $35 or five days in jail. Police said he was driving east on Craigflower, Jan. 24, when he collided with the rear of a car stopped to allow a pedestrian to cross the road.

Total damages were $800.

Cen. Saanich Chamber Sets Election Date

BRENTWOOD — Annual banquet of Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce will be held April 13, it was decided by a representative chamber meeting Monday evening.

Nominating committee consisting of Lloyd G. Wood, Don McMuldroch, R. C. L. Shaw, Roy Tidman, and Al Vickers was named to choose a slate of officers for 1956 to be voted on at the March 5 general meeting.

The meeting observed a minute's silence in memory of the late George R. Smith, former secretary of the local chamber who succumbed to a stroke a few days ago in a St. Thomas, Ont., hospital. He resigned his office here last May and returned to his former home in Ontario.

Feature of the meeting, which particularly interested former Albertans present, was the presentation of a color film depicting Calgary's famous stampede.

All the excitement of the stampede was shown, including the huge parade, bucking bronco riders, steer and calf roping, and chuck wagon races.

Secretary Ken Buffam acted as projectionist and W. F. Grafton was narrator.

NEIGHBORS FORGOT HYDRANT IN FIGHTING RESERVE FIRE

NANAIMO—Firemen were called to the Nanaimo Indian Reserve at 8.41 p.m. Sunday when the cabin of Bill Martin caught fire from an overheated wood stove.

One room of the two-room cabin was completely gutted before the blaze was finally quenched. No one was injured by the fire.

Fire Chief Colin McArthur said that damage might have been less had the Indians thought to use the hose cart and hydrant provided on the reservation.

In this particular case it was necessary for firemen to lay 13 lengths of hose to reach the cabin.

Former Island Man Possible Candidate for Labor Office

Joe Morris, former Ladysmith scaler and president of International Woodworkers of America District 1, probably will be a candidate for vice-president of the new Canadian Labor Congress in April.

Last week's woodworkers' convention in Vancouver asked the IWA international office to grant Mr. Morris with a CLC credential, after turning down a resolution which would have named him a candidate from the union.

An IWA spokesman said it is likely Mr. Morris would be nominated at the merged congress convention as one of 13 vice-presidents (two from B.C.) in the national organization.

Mr. Morris himself spoke on the earlier resolution and suggested its deletion.

The convention agreed that the principle of swing shifts should be included in the industry-wide contract in B.C., but the feeling was that many locals will have to be convinced of its advantages.

Some mills now operate a swing shift system.

Delegates rejected without discussion a resolution from Courtenay local that Canada and Soviet bloc countries exchange trade unionists for short-term visits. The resolution was slated to go to the merger convention in Toronto.

Mitchell Appointed Constable

Former Esquimalt police commissioner Frank Mitchell, who resigned to join the police force as a constable, has been accepted on probation, commission chairman A. C. Wurtele said Monday.

A by-election to fill the vacancy will be held Feb. 18. Deadline for nominations is Wednesday. So far, trade unionist Don Douglas and heating contractor Don MacLeod have indicated they will run.

Mr. Mitchell was, at 30, the youngest person ever elected to the B.C. legislature, when he won an Esquimalt by-election in 1951. He was an officer in the Esquimalt CCF association and former vice-president of the plasterers' local 450.

Canada has been the world's leading producer of newsprint since 1925, and now accounts for more than half the world supply.

ON ESQUIMALT ROAD

Two-Lane Traffic Asked From Naden

Rush-hour traffic from Esquimalt shipyards, Work Point Barracks and HMCS Naden will be speeded by introduction of two-lane eastbound traffic to Victoria, Esquimalt council agreed Monday.

The city will be approached to make the Esquimalt Road and Johnson Street route two-lane up to about the vicinity of Johnson Street bridge. In Esquimalt, double-lane will commence about Signal Hill.

The plan is under investigation by the municipal solicitor.

Council met for a special discussion on the subject of local improvements for which a policy for borrowing and petition deadlines was established.

It was decided to proceed this summer with the Lyall Street local improvement, but in order to reduce the chance of this street becoming a "speed-way" when resurfaced and provided with curb and gutters, Admirals, Fraser and Lampson have been made through cross streets and stop signs will be installed or Lyall.

Traffic will thus be diverted to Esquimalt Road, it was pointed out.

Arms-Export Policy Draws Fresh Blasts

(From Times News Services)

The government's arms-export policy is again under attack following the lifting of a brief embargo on Canadian arms shipments to the Middle East.

Prime Minister St. Laurent announced Monday at the sitting's opening that the embargo, imposed temporarily Jan. 20, was ended. The government had resumed its previous policy of considering each bid to export military equipment on its merits.

Shipments would be of a type and quantity "which could not provoke an arms race or provide an incentive to aggression." He added:

"If the political situation in the area should change in a way which would make inadvisable any shipments of any kind, necessary action to refuse applications or postpone shipments will be taken."

Tory Calls for Committee Study

But the opposition kept the issue on the fire as the House moved on to consider a routine government supply motion.

Lt.-Col. Gordon Churchill (PC, Winnipeg South Centre) moved an amendment, tantamount to a motion of non-confidence in the government, calling for committee study of government procedure in issuing export permits for arms shipments. The committee would recommend a code of procedure.

CCF leader Coldwell and Rev. E. G. Hansell, acting Social Credit leader, supported his motion in a debate which continues today.

The arms embargo referred to by the prime minister was begun at the request of opposition leader Drew pending a debate on the matter. That debate was held last Tuesday and Wednesday, ending in defeat of two opposition want-of-confidence motions.

Details Will Not Be Revealed

Earlier Monday there were two unsuccessful Conservative attempts to have the government make public details of shipments to Egypt.

Liberal majorities prevailed over the combined opposition in votes of 129 to 77 and 133 to 77, supporting the government's refusal of the Conservative demands. They were for copies of export orders for any shipments of aircraft and other munitions to Egypt since last June 15, and for a copy of a ministerial order by Trade Minister Howe in July authorizing export of the 15 Harvard training planes to Egypt.

Federal Aid for Education Urged

The need for some form of federal aid to education in Canada is becoming more imperative and more inescapable, an educationist-senator said Monday night in the Senate.

Senator William M. Wall, L-Manitoba, who at 44 has been an educationist for 25 years, said education should be looked at in the context of an over-all national purpose.

"It is from this point of view that we must examine carefully the need for some form of federal aid to education, which need is truly becoming more imperative and more inescapable."

First Canadian of Ukrainian descent appointed to the Upper House, Senator Wall was among 13 new senators appointed last July.

Senator Wall said he is aware of the constitutional problems involved in any federal plan for aid to education. Health also was a provincial matter under the constitution, but this had not prevented the federal government from expressing willingness to become a partner in a national health insurance plan.

"I cannot shake off my belief," he said, "that the considerations which prompted the federal government to assist provincial governments in implementing health insurance plans designed, controlled and administered by the provinces could apply with equal justification to education which is also a general service aimed at increasing the capital assets of the Canadian people."

Defence Minister Campney said Monday his department is investigating the possibility of rebuilding Winnipeg's Minto armories, heavily damaged by a $600,000 fire two weeks ago.

Replying to a question by Dr. Owen C. Trainor, PC-Winnipeg South, he said the department's present intention is to reconstruct the building. However, he could give no final decision until the situation had been reviewed.

Canada has not been asked to provide a 500-man security force for Palestine, Prime Minister St. Laurent said Monday.

Replying to a question by John Diefenbaker, PC-Prince Albert, he also said the government is giving no consideration to such a step.

Mr Diefenbaker asked whether any study is being given to the possibility of using men from the 2nd Canadian Infantry Brigade in Germany for such a force.

Loan Act Changes Before Commons

Sliding Scale of Interest Charges Proposed; Scope Will Be Widened

OTTAWA (CP) — The government Monday introduced legislation which would set a sliding scale of interest rates on small loans, thus eliminating the present 2-per-cent monthly rate.

The bill also would widen the scope of the Small Loans Act to take in loans up to $1,500, compared with $500 as at present.

Proposed rates of interest would be:

1. Two per cent a month on an unpaid balance less than $300.

2. One per cent a month on an unpaid balance between $300 and $1,000.

3. One-half of one per cent on an unpaid balance greater than $1,000.

On long-term loans of less than $500 for more than 15 months, or of more than $500 for 30 months, the rate would be one per cent a month.

The bill, given first reading Monday, likely will be sent to the Commons banking and commerce committee after it receives second reading, or approval in principle.

The legislation, forecast in the throne speech, clashes with a bill sponsored by Hazen Argue (CCF-Assiniboia) who proposes that interest rates on small loans be cut to one per cent a month from two per cent.

Socred Party Spending Hit By CCF MLA

Social Credit party has spent "well over $300,000" on campaign literature, party propaganda and other expenses since the 1952 general election, Frank Howard (CCF-Skeena) charged in the Legislature Monday.

"Put books on the table so the people can see," said the young CCF member.

He said Social Credit's campaign spending in the Lillooet by-election were "excessively high."

Mr. Howard also attacked the government's attitude toward civil servants. He said it was "patronizing," and that the wage increases in the budget for civil servants constituted "a handout."

"The government's present method of dealing with civil servants is not good. They wanted to be treated as human beings, not as second-class citizens."

He accused the government of promising to grant bargaining rights to civil servants during the 1952 election campaign, and of failing to keep their promises.

Mr. Howard joined Liberal finance critic P. A. Gibbs of Oak Bay in charging the premier of "padding" estimates in the budget. He said the newly-announced budget will allow ministers "to fly around the province, crowing about a vastly expanded program, but much of it won't be spent."

The Skeena member said 25 per cent of the announced program for highway construction in 1955-56 was not carried out.

Commonwealth Parleys Not Tied to London

OTTAWA (BUP) — Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden suggested Monday that Commonwealth prime ministers' conferences, usually held in London, should be held in Commonwealth capitals.

"Though we enjoy being host to all these meetings," Eden said to a joint sitting of the Senate and House of Commons, "it would be good if, from time to time, the meeting place were to revolve."

POST OFFICE HELIPORT NEARLY READY

VANCOUVER (CP) — The first rooftop heliport in Canada will be completed on top of the new Vancouver post office building in about three weeks.

Contractors have started pouring concrete for the 160-foot square, reinforced landing base. It will take a load of 10,000 pounds per wheel.

Helicopter service will carry mail between the new post office and the Vancouver International airport about 12 miles away on Sea Island.

Officials have not yet said whether the service will go into operation when the building is opened for business in mid-1957.

City Labor Men Buck Party Ties

An IWA proposal that a political alliance be established between organized labor, farmers and the CCF party will probably "die a natural death" by next year.

This opinion, voiced by Edwin Haw, financial secretary of Victoria local 1-118 International Woodworkers of America, was concurred in by T. C. Gooderham, Trades and Labor Congress organizer for Vancouver Island.

Mr. Haw spoke on his return from the week-long woodworkers' convention in Vancouver where the political alliance resolution arose and was approved in principle.

Action on the proposal was deferred for a year, by which time the Canadian Labor Congress will be set up and functioning. It will combine 1,000,000 labor unionists of the TLC and Canadian Congress of Labor, to which the IWA is now affiliated.

"I feel and hope," said Mr. Gooderham, "the merged congress will stay clear of that.

NO ONE GROUP

"The Canadian Labor Congress will be in contact with every political party and every government across Canada, and if it is going to do a job for the working people I feel it can't afford to have an alliance with any single party."

President of Victoria District Trades and Labor Council, Robert Barrie, said "it is against our constitution to discuss affiliation with a party. I am not in favor of political alliances."

Cecil Bulman, president of Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association, said his group is strictly non-political, and Victor Midgley, TLC carpenters' union international representative said "I think political education is more in the line of thinking of the majority" when it comes to the merged congress.

The proposal indicated to CCF MLA Robert Strachan (Cowichan-Newcastle) that the trade union movement is not satisfied with B.C.'s government and hopes the CCF can "spearhead" a "genuine people's movement" to benefit farmer and labor.

15-Year Sentence

FORT MEADE, Mr. (AP)—A military court Monday sentenced Sgt. William E. Sanghart, 27, of Muncy, Pa., to 15 years at hard labor for collaborating with the enemy while he was a prisoner-of-war in Korea. Sanghart also was sentenced to be dishonorably discharged and to suffer forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

EGGS, ROCKS HURLED

Negro Student Barred By Alabama College

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UP)—The University of Alabama barred Negro student Autherine Lucy from classes today to prevent further violence and insure her safety.

University trustees voted in emergency session Monday night to use "police powers" to exclude the 26-year-old Negro girl from classes following tense demonstrations in which eggs and rocks were hurled.

Her attorney, Arthur Shores, said in Birmingham the trustees' action appeared to be "planned." He won a federal court case to get her admitted to the university as its first Negro student.

Dr. O. C. Carmichael, university president, called trustees into emergency session Monday night about the same time Gov. James E. Folsom refused to send National Guardsmen. Carmichael warned the violence might force the university to close.

USE DECOY CARS

The tense hours of Miss Lucy's third day of classes Monday were followed by a third midnight demonstration during which one egg was thrown at Mrs. Carmichael and two pelted Police Chief W. C. Tompkins.

Highway patrolmen spirited Miss Lucy from the campus a few hours earlier while decoy autos were pelted with eggs and rocks. She was not harmed.

Demonstrators marched and drove about the campus and into town Monday night and early today shouting "Hey hey, ho ho! Where in the hell did the Nigger go."

Police used two tear gas shells to break up the crowd of students long after officials spread the word of the board's decision.

Teacher Negotiations Under Way; Report Must Be Made in Week

Arbitration of the 1956 wage contract between 580 Greater Victoria teachers and School District 61 began Monday before a three-man board.

Hearings probably will last all week.

Decision must be filed by next Tuesday.

Mrs. Hazel Hodson, teachers' spokesman, today was to complete reading of a 31-page brief dealing with the teaching profession's position in the province.

Succinctly, the general brief emphasized postwar school expansions have brought into classrooms normal school trained teachers who are "unqualified academically," and proposed as a cure a 10 per cent hike, admittedly somewhat higher than the 5 to 6 per cent increase in the provincial average of salaries the teachers say is needed to match the province's general economic improvement.

Today, Mrs. Hodson is to highlight purely local aspects, specifically wage requests totaling $127,000. School board, which earlier offered adjustments amounting to about $50,000, now stands firm on the 1955 salary scale.

Members of the board of arbitration are Hershell Smith, chairman; Hugh Henderson and Alan Baker.

MAN BUTCHERED COUPLE BECAUSE OF 'NAGGING'

NEW ORLEANS—Donald Wyciskala, 22, of Bismarck, N.D., admitted to FBI agents here today that he killed a Seattle couple with a hatchet Sunday because he "got tired of the guy nagging about my driving."

Wyciskala answered a newspaper advertisement placed by Mr. and Mrs. James Askew who wanted someone to drive them to Los Angeles. Man and wife were found near Bakersfield, Calif., with head injuries, throats cut, and run over by their own car.

SOMMERS IN DILEMMA

4,000 Lost Jobs Would Save Trees

An estimated 4,000 loggers would be thrown out of work if cutting of Douglas fir in the eastern section of the Vancouver forest district was placed on a sustained yield basis, Forests Minister R. E. Sommers told the Legislature Monday.

After warning the House that overcutting of Douglas fir on that part of the Vancouver forest district east of the centre range of mountains on Vancouver Island is a matter of "grave concern," the minister said:

"If we start reducing the annual cut now to bring it within the sustained yield capacity of the area, and to husband the remaining old growth until a new crop is ready for cutting, we are going to kill off the jobs of some of the men now working in the woods."

He said the eastern section of the district employs "approximately 20,000 loggers, and it is estimated that 4,000 of these would be out of work if the cutting was reduced to a sustained yield plan.

"On the other hand," said the minister, "the remaining 16,000 will have employment that is as stable as the logging industry can provide.

KILL OFF JOBS

"Alternatively, we can allow the cutting to continue at its present rate, and kill off most of the 20,000 jobs in the next 20 to 30 years.

"This government, and I believe some members in the opposition, are firmly convinced of the need for sustained yield forestry," said Mr. Sommers.

With the great concentration of logging operations in the eastern section of the Vancouver forest district, old growth Douglas fir cannot last for more than 25 years, he said.

"At the present time, approximately 20 per cent of the timber produced in the Douglas fir belt is coming from lands that are being managed on a sustained yield basis.

"Obviously the remaining 80 per cent is being logged from lands that are being overcut at a rate that will quickly lead us to disaster," Mr. Sommers said.

He said his personal belief is that sustained yield and the public interest are the chief objectives in managing forests.

Railway Wages

THE RAILWAY WORKERS ARE among the best and most responsible citizens of Canada. But the present wage demands of their unions are strangely lacking in responsibility.

The two transcontinental railway systems estimate that if the unions' proposals were applied to all employees the cost of transportation would be increased by $159 millions a year.

This, in a nation of some fifteen millions, is a huge amount of money—roughly $10 for every Canadian man, woman and child. In the end the cost of transportation, like every other cost, will be paid only by the public in one form or another.

The railways, however, are not in a position to hand on increased operating expenses of this size to the public immediately in increased freight and passenger rates. No doubt they will ask for increased rates if their wage bill rises, but once rates pass a certain point they encounter the law of diminishing returns.

Railways are no longer a transportation monopoly. They must compete with trucks, with airplanes, with ships using the St. Lawrence and also in transcontinental business with ships sailing between our two coasts by the Panama Canal. If the railways' rates are too high they will lose business to their competitors. They are approaching if they have not already reached the law of diminishing traffic returns.

If the railways cannot pay higher operating costs they will probably appeal to the national Government for a subsidy, and a subsidy can come only out of taxes. Either through taxes or rates the railway workers are trying to raise the living costs of other workers.

The railwaymen may have a sound case for some wage increase and other benefits. Certainly their case deserves the fullest hearing before the present conciliation board. But they are asking for much more than unions in other industries have asked. In the last year the wage increases and fringe benefits granted generally throughout Canada were far below those now sought in the railway trades.

Apart from these questions of equity, it must be remembered that if the railways are compelled to make drastic concessions they will set a pattern for other industry and probably unloose a new wage-price spiral at a time of inflationary pressure throughout the North American economy.

Increased costs of transportation will directly raise the costs of all industry in any case, since all industry uses the railways, but the indirect effects, in stimulating excessive wage demands elsewhere, may be the more serious.

Judging by past experience the conciliation board will be unable to settle the present dispute between management and the railway unions. If conciliation breaks down, as it has in former cases, then the unions will feel free to strike and paralyze the nation.

It is not likely, however, that any strike will be permitted. Having compelled the unions to arbitrate former disputes, the national Government presumably will enforce that policy again—a policy repugnant to the unions, the Government and the public. It is tolerable only as a last resort, as an alternative to national paralysis. If the unions force a resort to arbitration they are not likely to get what they are now asking.

Paying Half School Costs If . . .

THE DISPUTE BETWEEN THE Vancouver school board and the provincial department of education over the amount the province will pay toward the construction of new schools deserves close study by the public.

In the discussion the minister of education has made it quite clear that no school board can expect dollar for dollar from the government if the board's buildings are too luxurious, or too extravagantly planned.

The government will pay half of what it calls "approved" costs. And "approval" is granted or withheld by department authorities on the basis of a book of rules compiled to assure "a good standard of school accommodation" for any child anywhere in the province.

The government, through the minister, makes the point that it does not prevent a municipality from spending what it wants on new schools. But if the construction costs are above the "approved" figure per square foot, then the municipality has to pay all of the excess.

The "approved" figure can and does vary from place to place, owing to local conditions influencing building costs. And it may also fluctuate from season to season as conditions change in the construction industry.

The effort by the department of education to establish standards for new buildings is admirable in at least two respects. It is aimed at equalizing to a marked degree the accommodation for school children throughout the province, and it is a very definite measure to encourage economy.

The education department has heard too much about the "Taj Mahals" the different boards either built or planned in the post-war period and the provincial authorities are determined to bring the boards down to earth again.

There is nevertheless one very serious influence imposed by the department's insistence on paying for half of "approved" costs only. By taking that position the B.C. department of education is exercising a compelling economic control over school boards.

School boards derive their building funds from two sources, municipal taxation and from government grants. This is so even though the actual cash comes immediately from a bond issue. If they are not prevented from setting standards for themselves above the "approved" costs of the department, they are certainly discouraged. There is no 50-50 sharing above the point of approval.

This means, in effect, that the department of education largely determines the type of school a district will build. It can account, for instance, for the difference between the concrete construction of S. J. Willis and Central Junior High—approved before the "book of words" reached present definitions—and the cheaper Oak Bay Junior High School construction.

Undoubtedly the present departmental system works for economy. Unquestionably, too, it imposes pressure on school boards. That pressure can be simply expressed: School boards can build schools with the government paying half the costs just as long as the board accepts the type of school the department sets. Anything more elaborate and the government does not pay a full half of the costs.

Under such a system, school boards must inevitably lose some of their autonomy. No doubt the Minister's act is well-intentioned; but it has the effect of diminishing local influence in the building and administration of schools.

The Nurserymen Need a Hand

THE LOSSES SUFFERED BY nurserymen from this winter's early freeze have not been fixed in dollars and cents. By their own estimates, however, men in that industry consider themselves seriously crippled if not on the verge of bankruptcy.

They are asking for help. They have made their appeal to the Provincial Government and that appeal has been endorsed by many members. Mr. George Gregory's support of their case last week was only one instance of the backing they have received.

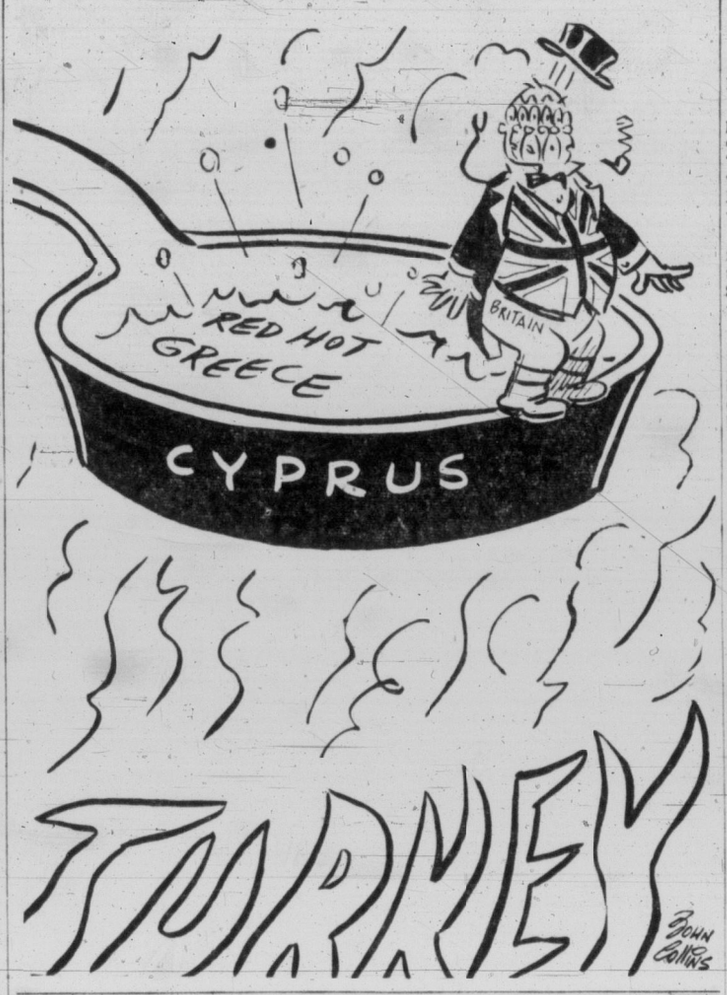
"They do not ask for gifts," said Mr. Gregory. "They ask for loans." But they must have the loans quickly.

There is, of course, always some danger in establishing a precedent for lending money to those unfortunate in any industry. The Government's reluctance to create such a pattern can be appreciated. In this case, however, the plea of an industry for help to assure its survival should overcome that reluctance.

It can be a matter of little concern from what source the nurserymen receive borrowed money provided the costs of borrowing are not too high. Whether it comes directly from the Government or, through Government guarantee, is provided at low rates by the banks, is immaterial. But speed in making it available is vital.

The nurserymen have suffered from an act of God. The misfortune which has befallen them amounts in their eyes to a disaster. They are looking for relief—for a means of maintaining themselves in a valued field of activity—and they are appealing to the province. That is an appeal which should be heard. Emergencies call for emergency measures.

The Frying Pan



An Exchange of Letters

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, From Washington

THE letters of Bulganin and Eisenhower reflect plainly what we may call the dualism of their meeting at Geneva last July. They were agreed then that with nuclear weapons war has become intolerable but they were agreed on nothing else. The substantive agreement about war remained, and both letters adhere to it. But what is called the Geneva spirit meant in July, as it means today, that each side hopes, believes, or insists, that the other side ought to be agreeing with it. Nowhere on any concrete issue has there been a serious offer to negotiate. The Soviets have not budged an inch from their pre-Geneva position. In fact, they have become stiffer about unification and the two Germanys. And we have not moved from our pre-Geneva position.

Lippmann

It is usually assumed that this political deadlock since Geneva is contrary to the accord reached at Geneva. In fact, it must be said, I believe, that it is the consequence of that accord.

Reduced to its elements, we have a political stalemate founded upon the Eisenhower-Bulganin accord at Geneva that there is a military stalemate. Neither side feels itself under serious pressure and neither side is conceding anything; for the time being the situation in Europe remains in status quo.

ALREADY AFFIRMED

As the President says in his reply to Bulganin, there is no point in making a treaty which reaffirms what is already agreed to in the United Nations charter and has been, we may add, reaffirmed by the exchange of pledges at Geneva. If two men have signed a solemn contract, it will not reduce the tension between them to propose that they write the same contract all over again. It is much more likely to arouse suspicion.

The President's rejection of the proposed bilateral treaty rests on a sound decision, and the manner of his doing it is in excellent temper.

But for myself, I could wish that he had not implied that the spirit of Geneva requires the Soviet Union to agree to our proposals, particularly those about Germany. That is not and was never in the cards, and the hope that it might be has always been wishful thinking.

What might have been expected after the July meeting was that there would take place a continuing exchange of serious and concrete views on all the areas of conflict. Geneva did not promise agreement on any concrete issue. It did promise a much better diplomatic contact. This promise has not been fulfilled, and this is the real disappointment about Geneva.

The Western powers have not been in good diplomatic contact with the Soviet Union over the situation in the Far East and in the Middle East. They ought to be. We should not find ourselves, as apparently we do, in a position where we do not talk with Moscow about the issues in those parts of the world.

In the Far East, for example, the Soviet Union can say things in Peiping that nobody else can say, just as the British can say things in Washington. And in the Middle East, where the radically new factor is the presence of the Soviet Union, inability to talk may well be the fatal handicap to any solution.

For while it may be a sound policy not to invite the Soviet Union to enter into formal engagements—beyond her obligations under the United Nations charter—it cannot be sound policy not to be talking to the Soviet Union about the Middle East. That would be like deciding not to notice the elephant that has strolled into the dining room.

OBLIQUE REFERENCE

The President's letter refers obliquely and indirectly to the Middle East when it criticizes the Soviet Union for embarking on a course which increases tensions in historical international disputes. The President might well have asked Bulganin whether he is prepared to discuss the Middle East from the point of view of the increase of tension.

To be sure this would probably mean discussing not only the Soviet arms deal with Egypt but also the Baghdad pact to which the Egyptian arms deal seems to have been the Soviet reply. Provided that the discussion were confidential, more good than harm would be likely to come of such a discussion.

For the basic trouble in the Middle East is that the region has become an arena of the conflict of the great powers. The basic trouble is not the Arab-Israeli conflict, ugly and obdurate though it is. For that conflict is by no means insoluble by mediation and compromise—provided that the great powers, which include the Soviet Union, will support, will not disrupt, the mediation.

SERPENTINE WOMEN

Nine-hundred and ninety-nine women out of a thousand cannot abide snakes. This has always seemed a little odd to me since they have so much in common. In case that remark sounds rather offensive, let me explain what I mean. It seems to me that women possess all the more likeable characteristics of serpents—the same subtlety, the same propensity for getting round things, and, of course, they both capture their prey by fascinating him and thus rendering him powerless to escape.

Five Dollars for the Pensioners

RENT INCREASED

In last Thursday's Times a lot of people did a lot of figuring about the old-age pension boost. Art Stott said: "You came away feeling a certain warmth that B.C. was going to give a little more to the old folks and others who needed help."

He should have put the word others in big letters. When my landlord read the good news he raised my room rent $3 a month. I was paying $25, now I have to pay $28.

I don't want to give you my name for I don't want to get put out of my room before the cold weather is over, but if there is any kind of board in the city that would help me keep my pension bonus I would go to it.

"PENSIONER."

NIGGARDLY SOP

The five dollar increase in the old age pension announced in the budget is a niggardly sop. It in no way meets the need of the pensioners. No increase less than doubling the pension can begin to meet the need.

We boast of ourselves as the wealthiest province in Canada. We have a budget of over one quarter of a million dollars. We have reduced our provincial debt. We have a booming economy with individual enterprises acknowledging net profits of over 19 million dollars. If we can be open-handed in our expenditures on highways, public works, tunnels, bridges, and on industrial expansion, surely we need not be so tight-fisted towards those who pioneered this expansion and who are now in need.

FRANK SNOWSELL.

480 Marigold Rd.

GOOD START

Five dollars increase for some of our "senior" citizens' income was a good start.

But it was just "coffee money" compared to the millions of dollars derived from B.C.'s mineral, timber and water power resources by the industrial companies.

Five dollars would not pay for the $6.50 a load of weather-soaked hemlock, heatless planer ends dumped in the yards of our beloved old folks, or coal priced at $20 a ton, or butter produced in Canada costing a pensioner about double what many Europeans pay.

Home furniture and kitchen requirements purchased by monthly payments often have overloaded credit charges, room rents are far too high for those in the small income brackets.

Not forgetting those 50 and 60 years old—they have a difficult time to exist too. Here is where religious organizations, city and provincial governments could step in to lighten the load, especially when they know mountains of potential cheap heat and light water-power roar down from the hills to run to waste into the sea.

CHARLES CLARKE.

515 Springfield Ave.

WRONG APPROACH?

What a welcome reception your recent front page issue would be to so many pensioners, to be able to look forward to an extra $5 per month to start April 1, which undoubtedly means a lot to them. We should appreciate our legislative efforts to cope with this problem.

But actually, how much does it mean when you realize this problem, like any picture, has two sides and in my humble opinion the Legislature took the wrong approach towards a solution.

Increasing payments for wages, pensions or costs generally has long ago lost any virture that it had and today a new conception shows the need of something better.

As an illustration on Feb. 1 at a certain food chain store here, a certain article which a week before could be bought for 22 cents had been hiked to 29 cents, and I could quote other increases (actually over 31½ per cent).

This glaring example concerned a fruit, and no valid justification could be found for this increase, so how far does $5 a month go towards meeting that merchandising attitude?

Industrial wages are pinned to cost of living but no one but the primary producer has suffered from that phase and the more important feature is that whilst we all yearn for world peace and reduction in spending on destructive weapons, what can actual world peace offer when it comes to marketing our high cost products in competition on the world's markets?

Tariffs to keep other countries' goods out or deflating a country's currency to creep under competition cannot bridge the gap created by too high costs.

Will we ever learn this actuality?

H. WYER.

1170 Chapman St.

THEIRS TO KEEP

Regarding the increased bonus by the provincial government of $5 for the old age pensioners, I do hope it means that those who are cared for in hospitals, rest homes, etc., will now have $10 instead of just $5 for their own spending and that extra $5 will not be seized on some pretext or other. All who are capable of managing their own money should have $10 to do what they like with, even to save it if they so desire.

(MRS.) ALICE COLCLOUGH.

1263 Richardson St.

WASTED ADVICE

I send you part of an old age pension envelope, proclaiming to old age pensioners (many of whom have nothing but this inadequate pension to live on) that "Good Hot Breakfasts (note the plural) are a winter Must."

This proclamation may be the work of an agent provacateur or it may be the work of a plain fool.

Those who have nothing but the old age pension have not the means for hot breakfasts (usually associated not merely with toast) and probably insufficiency of fuel.

Rebellion Against the Commonplace

Those who have read H. G. Wells' "Life of Mr. Polly" may remember that Mr. Polly gets so fed up with life in general and commercialism in particular, that he decides to incinerate his home and cut his throat while his wife is out.

So he sets his home afire but before he gets time to attend to his throat he recollects that an old woman lives up stairs.

Dashing to the rescue he assists her onto the roof where the old lady is so tickled by the novelty of her elevation and mob attention from below, she does not want to come off it.

"Sich doings," she chuckles. This whole book in a rebellion against the commonplace, and when Ruth Enke enumerates life's commonplaces and trivialties as being what lots of people most like to read about, she writes what is not true.

This may sound over-simplified but letters must be short.

Personal or Otherwise?

Vancouver Sun

RESIGNATION of three top-ranking engineers of the provincial highways department demands less secretive explanation than Highways Minister Gaglardi has so far seen fit to make public.

This mass evacuation of the department's chief engineer and his principal aides comes as British Columbia is about to launch its biggest highway and bridge building program.

In any private business this would be a shattering blow—not only to the program but to the morale of the other employees and to the confidence of the shareholders.

In this case the shareholders are the people of B.C. They are mystified when Mr. Gaglardi in one breath says Chief Engineer Neil McCallum's letter of resignation is "personal" and in the next quotes McCallum as saying no "personal feelings" involved.

The B.C. civil service has unfortunately been losing too many of its important officials to private enterprise. H. C. Anderson, McCallum's predecessor, quit in 1950 to go into business.

In the past such resignations were attributable to the poor pay. Mr. McCallum and his two assistants had pay raises coming up in Wednesday's budget. Maybe the pay still wasn't satisfactory. If top men can't be kept because private industry offers more, not all Mr. Gaglardi's optimistic forecasts of replacements "easily found" will reassure the public.

Rumors that McCallum and other employees of the highways department were dissatisfied with policy and that there was too much "ministerial interference" ought to be cleared up for the public good.

'In Canada, a Dictator's Cloud'

Nashville (Tenn.) Banner

SOMEWHAT larger than that proverbial "man's hand" is the cloud now rising over Quebec—a Premier's clenched fist—and recognized by some newspapers of Canada as a threat to freedom of the press. For the provincial government of Premier Duplessis not only is viciously wreaking vengeance in the form of punitive taxes on the Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Co. for raising newsprint prices; it is legislating to put the whole newsprint industry and distribution under tight government control.

Both steps are what Canadian newspapers outside Quebec have called them: DICTATORSHIP.

Duplessis has sought (and apparently successfully) to mollify the Quebec press by the specification that newsprint price concessions shall be made its newspapers. By this plan somebody is going to subsidize the Quebec newspapers to that extent. A financial rebate . . . a gratuity in exchange for the silence of consent.

The whole operation is outrageous. It transgresses the basic principle of freedom. Its sponsor doesn't take the direct totalitarian step of SEIZING the press of his province; he simply trades a price concession for its silence, if he gets away with it. Thus far he has gotten away with it.

Because it raised the price of its product, Anglo-Canadian Co. was immediately subjected to an enormous municipal tax increase. In the wake of that, the premier seeks to create a board (whose cost the newsprint industry must pay) to exercise complete control over production, prices and distribution. Actually, it could cut off newsprint to newspapers opposing it, or opposing Duplessis—and could put them out of business.

Whether or not the Quebec newspapers recognize it, they are in the position—in their silence—of cutting their own throats.

Undoubtedly Duplessis is of that school which believes the government should control or wetnurse all business—more startling, that said control should begin with the press. Dictatorships have started that way. We wonder not that Canada's free press, outside Quebec, is appalled at this threat.

We hope the papers inside his governmental bailiwick come awake swiftly. If they aren't completely anesthetized by that subsidy needle beyond both fear and remorse they may rise to the occasion and denounce a patent invasion of freedom before it is gone beyond easy recovery.

GARDEN BIRDS

Every acre of agriculture taken by housing estates is sheer loss, but what of the effect on birds? It really is rather surprising but all the evidence points one way. An area of houses with mature gardens and shrubberies has a larger bird population than the same area when well-farmed.

LONDON LETTER — By WALLACE REYBURN

Putzi—A True Cockney

LONDON—We haven't owned a poodle for almost a year now, so I thought I'd drop into the pet shop in nearby Baker street and look into the poodle situation. When once you have been a poodle-owner and then cease to be, you feel rather out of things. You see other people with theirs, you know the enjoyment they're getting out of them and you're envious.

Reyburn

The other day, for instance, when young Mac and I were walking in Regents Park we noticed one of the park police with a poodle on a lead. Cops aren't in the habit of taking their pets with them when they're on their beat, so we concluded it must be a lost dog. We went up and the young black poodle gave Mac a great welcome.

While he was stroking him I talked to the policeman and he said yes, the dog was lost, and he'd be taking it to the nearest police station. I was tempted to say that it's not much fun for a dog to be cooped up in a police station awaiting inquiries from its master—why not let me take the dog home and the police could put the owner in touch with me?

But I felt sure he wouldn't go for that one. We walked away, with Mac looking over his shoulder at the poodle, and then I realized that his mind was on the same channel as mine whe he said: "If the policeman had wanted somebody to look after that poodle, we'd have volunteered, wouldn't we, Dad."

* * *

It was after that that I went to the pet shop poodle-hunting. But the woman who runs the shop full of pups (she knows the Reyburns so well—we're in there enough to be charged for loitering) said that there's such a fantastic demand for poodles that she can never get enough of them. As she was telling me she didn't have one in the shop, I noticed she was holding a pup in the crook of her arm.

It was minute. I asked to have a look at it and, when I asked her what sort it was, she said it was a crossbreed. That was putting it mildly. It had poodle ears, a Labrador's coat and a Scottie's tail.

But as so often happens—you go into a shop for one thing and come out with another—I went in for a poodle and came out with Putzi, the name my wife gave it as soon as I got it home. The name fitted perfectly because she looks just like Putzi in the well-known short story, Inside Outside, by Ludwig Bemelmans.

Who Putzi was I can't tell you, but if you want to read a delightful short story, get Bemelmans' collected stories and it will probably be in there.

What puzzled my wife and me about our Putzi was what it would look like and how big it would be when it grew up. So I took it to the vet. "It's a Cockney, all right," he said. "Cockney?" I asked. "Yes," he said, "product of the London streets." "What's she likely to look like?" "No recognizable breed that I can see—bring her back in six months and I may be able to tell you more."

But street urchin or not, Putzi has made a great hit in our household. Only sign of disapproval has come from our Scottie—offspring of Glenmead Blaize of Aberdare (champion) and Thora of St. Kilts (champion.) He's been on a hunger strike since I brought Putzi into the home.

YOUR HEALTH — By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Sensitiveness to Chemicals

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Recently, at a convention, Dr. George E. Morris of Boston, told of one of those many persons who suffers greatly and unwittingly from some chemical with which he comes in contact in his office or shop or in the clothes he wears.

Dr. Alvarez

This man, during his days as a leather tanner, had become so sensitive to the chromium in the tanning bath that his hands kept breaking out. Then his feet began to break out because of contact with his shoes, and for years the man could not work. He became so discouraged he took to drink. He got well when Dr. Morris got him to wear shoes made of canvas.

I remember a few women so sensitive to nylon that they could not wear nylon hose. It produced the typical picture of athlete's foot with blisters between the toes. The diagnosis became easy when a nylon brassiere produced a reddish band in the skin.

Women whose eyelids swell and appear to be inflamed must think of the possibility that a new cosmetic is causing the trouble. Many a woman gets a red spot where her watch rests on the skin—due perhaps to a trace of nickel in the alloy.

Blondes and red-heads with their extra-sensitive skins are most likely to get into trouble. I have known able surgeons who had to quit their work and go into another specialty because they could not stand the chemicals used in scrubbing their hands, and I have known beauticians who had to quit because their hands could not stand the chemicals used in their business.

PLANTAR WARTS

In a recent issue of Modern Medicine is a symposium on those plantar warts on the soles of the feet that cause thousands of persons great misery. In my experience such warts are best treated by an x-ray man who will quickly cure eight or nine out of ten persons. This treatment causes the patient the least expenditure of time.

I see in the symposium that some of the experts favored this method. A few like to cut the warts out or to trim them down a way, and then to apply a paste either of 30 per cent podophyllin in ticture of benzoin, or a 40 per cent salicylic acid plaster. As the medicine softens up the wart tissue this is curetted out with a little sharp spoon-like instrument. Some men use a 25 per cent formalin preparation, and others use other drugs.

The discussants admitted that in some bad cases no one treatment is entirely satisfactory. I remember when I was a boy I had one of these painful plantar warts. I took a small sharp knife and cut the thing out. I went on down until I came to tissue that hurt and bled: And the wart never came back!

OVARIES HAVE VALUE

In these days when surgeons often remove a middle-aged woman's normal ovaries with the idea that after her child-bearing days are over she does not need them, and in the meantime she might get an ovarian cancer, it is good to read that Dr. George C. Griffith, of Los Angeles, disagrees. He recently warned the members of the American Academy of Obstetrics and Gynecology that removal of the ovaries can do harm to the blood vessels and circulatory system. He said that the ovaries are not useless to a woman after the menopause; they still have helpful functions.

Rummage Sale Planned to Help The Handicapped

Goodwill Enterprises of Victoria Ltd., formed recently to provide work for handicapped persons here, starts off with a rummage sale Saturday, Feb. 18, at the newly opened plant at 917 Pandora.

Sponsored by the Victoria League for the Handicapped, funds realized from sale or renovation of contributed clothing, furniture or other articles will aid the unique industry.

The sale will last all day Saturday, and if contributions are sufficiently heavy, will be held again Monday.

Trucks will pick up contributions, and persons with items they wish to give may contact 2-8315, 5-2832 or 4-1537, and a truck will call.

Present plans call for a systematic method of contributions from interested citizens. Bags will be provided for old clothing so discarded apparel may be put in these, and picked up at regular times by company personnel.

Eventually it is hoped to employ between 150 and 200 handicapped persons in the venture.

Rap Women Workers

VIENNA (AP) — The Budapest newspaper Nepszava deplores a method used by some Hungarian women assembly-line workers to get rid of spoiled parts that would ruin their production quotas. They flushed 40 sub-standard connecting rods down toilet drains, it said, and stopped up the factory's plumbing.

IN THE HOUSE with ART STOTT

Forests and an Undercurrent

Until Monday, Lands, Forests and Mines Minister Robert Sommers had been a quiet member of the government this session.

He became involved in a crossfire last week as opposition members sought to smoke out details of the way work had been allocated on the Cassiar-Stewart mining access road. But his contribution then was little more than a question concerning a report allegedly made on the project. "What report?" Mr. Sommers asked, giving members no satisfaction in their probing at that time.

On Monday Mr. Sommers spoke on the affairs of his departments, going over various branches in brief form for two hours.

If there was any tension in the minister who has been asked to withdraw his libel and slander action against Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy in favor of a royal commission inquiry, Mr. Sommers concealed it very well. The undercurrents were not apparent, though an eddy did break the surface at one point.

The flurry came when the minister discussed possible Columbia river development and re-argued his position on the abortive plan to create a storage dam for Kaiser Aluminum on the Lower Arrow Lakes.

Mr. Sommers quoted from the record of proceedings on the conference B.C. had held with the resources department in Ottawa. He used excerpts to support his stand that British Columbia had known what it was doing and that Ottawa had been pretty inept in opposing the provincial case.

If you had agreed with Mr. Sommers in the first case, you would have agreed with him again on his recapitulation, with additions, Monday. If you had considered federal action correct last year, you would not have been convinced by the latest Social Credit chapter on the Kaiser dam affair.

Mr. Sommers turned his attention from points of argument for a time to refer to the Liberal members of the B.C. Legislature as Ottawa's "apologists."

"You haven't proved anything," remarked Liberal leader Arthur Laing.

"When we put the hair shirt on them, it makes them squirm," said Mr. Sommers.

And that brought the undercurrent eddying up.

"Who's wearing it this year?" shouted Liberal Bruce Brown.

A Good Speech

Apart from that exchange the House heard a very good presentation from Mr. Sommers. He had his material well prepared—his written speech was even longer than the two hour oral version.

The minister doesn't stumble. He grasps the side of the reading desk carrying his manuscript and speaks clearly and forcefully.

There was the expected Social Credit tribute to "the best budget ever presented by any government in the history of this province."

Mr. Sommers seemed to take in a fair amount of territory and history in the statement, but Premier Bennett who sits at the desk on his left, didn't offer any modest denials.

The report on forests, forest service and spending plans for this backbone of B.C.'s economy came clearly and emphatically from the minister's lips.

Mr. Sommers is deeply concerned about overcutting in the Douglas fir forests of the province and cannot agree with the attitude of operators who are not similarly concerned. He thinks some of those who call themselves "free-enterprisers" might better use the word "freebooter."

All in all the forest section of his speech provided material that should interest all British Columbians—those who recognize the importance of the resource and the industry as bread and butter and that growing number now turning to the woods for recreation.

A lot that the minister said provokes argument from some timber operators who have testified to the Sloan commission. On hydro development his position is even more controversial. On University Land Endowments his remarks may stir inquiry rather than objection, and on mining, as well as oil and gas development, his tone was cheerful.

On the face of it, the speech from Mr. Sommers was a good, workmanlike job. You didn't have to agree with all of it to recognize its merit and the fact that it wasn't something delivered off the cuff, without thought.

Calgary Conductor Can Stay Temporarily

OTTAWA (BUP) — Henry Plukker, a Netherlands visitor serving his second term as conductor of Calgary's philharmonic orchestra, has been granted an extension of his temporary visa to cover the balance of the current musical season, an immigration department official said today.

At the season's end, however, Plukker must return to Holland or face deportation, he added.

'Frozen' Corpse Scares Mortician

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—An undertaking parlor at Alexandria, 30 miles northeast of here, made a quick change of plans Monday when a "corpse" suddenly sat up and mumbled, "I'm cold, cold."

James McKay, 55, was believed dead when found "frozen stiff" in a snowbank early in the day. Police sent the "body" to the undertakers.

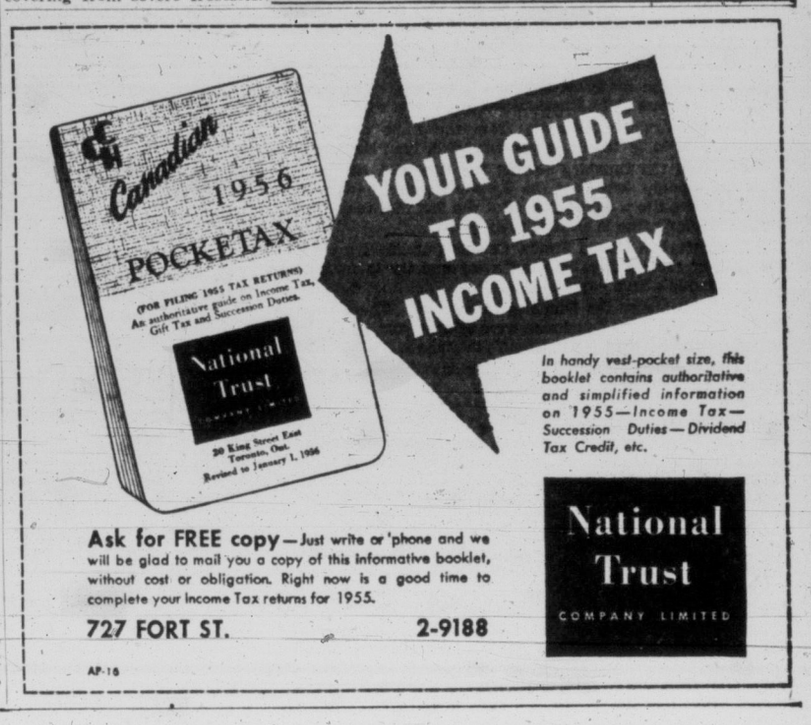
The undertakers were waiting for a death certificate when McKay began to mumble.

He now is in hospital here recovering from severe frostbite.

ANTHONY EDEN INTERVIEW BROADCAST AT 9.30 TONIGHT

The interview with British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, listed in the Times Monday as scheduled for 5.30 to 6 this afternoon over the CBC national network has been postponed until 9.30 tonight. It will be heard in Victoria over CBU.

Notification of the change was received in Victoria too late Monday to effect a change in the program listings.



IT'S MY VIEW BY Bill Walker

Russia won the Olympic hockey championship Saturday night at Cortina, Italy.

The nearly best team that Canada could muster, finished third best. The Kitchener Waterloo Dutchmen weren't good enough to emulate the Penticton V's triumph of last year.

Maybe they were as good as the V's, and maybe they weren't. "Maybes" don't matter. The Dutchies were our team at Cortina; and the Russians beat them 2-0.

Sitting on this side of the fence listening to those on the other side of the fence (at Cortina) describe the Russian victory, one wonders if the Russians were that much improved.

The conservative estimate from the radio commentors would appear to be "about 50 per cent better than last year."

But then the Dutchies outshot the Russians, two to one. It is the thought here that the Russians would have trouble winning three times out of five. But the fact that they did win this particular game is all that counts now.

The defeat to United States, Canada's other Olympic loss, was one of those things you put away and try to forget. It really shouldn't have happened.

But why blame the Dutchies themselves. There was no hue and cry when the Dutchmen were selected and, as Canada's national amateur champions, weren't they the logical choice?

Certainly they never quit; on this day they met a better team.

Still, the point remains that Russia did improve, and will continue to improve. The Reds realized their shortcomings last year when they got thumped by the V's. But did they take it lying down? They did not. They set out to rectify those mistakes. They learned the hard way—from experience. They wanted a winner and they produced one.

Canada rested on its laurels. Rested too well.

It's Time We Opened Our Eyes

Probably the biggest lesson that Canada learned from this year's defeat was that no longer can European hockey teams be taken for granted. As Foster Hewitt said: "They're good." The fact that he implied that Russia, in the Olympic final, could have beaten any team in Canada, does not, in our opinion, ring quite true. That's a lot of wordage in a few syllables. But it does prove that the calibre of hockey in Europe is definitely on the upgrade, and that Canadian domination of the sport is, according to the Olympic code, close to being something out of the past.

It was said after the Russians' 7-2 victory over Toronto East York in the world championships of 1954 that the Russian players received state bonuses. It was also said that the Russian players received their full salaries when in state athletic errands.

We don't intended to argue the point about amateurism and professionalism. That is immature. Russia's hockey team is state controlled and state operated. Winning is the prime objective. That has been achieved.

For their play in the Olympic final, the Russians are to be congratulated. They were the best team. All hail the victor.

And we don't go for the thought that Canada should subsidize its athletes as is done and Russia and other European countries.

But we do go for the idea that Canada should take a little more pride in its representative team.

Sure, nobody's going to tell us how to run the game we invented. But right now Russia is doing a good job in that department and hailing the Olympic victory from the rooftops of the world.

Past Records Do Not Apply

Canada, as Canada, has been generally unconcerned.

There was a time when Canada felt that she was spoiling international hockey relations because her teams were too strong.

But that was a few years ago. Not today.

Today we must face up to the Russians.

For what Canadian sportsman would vote against competing in future world tournaments, because of our setback this year, and with the world tourney scheduled for Moscow next year?

Canada, all of it, must wake up.

Despite the Russian way of life that has produced a Russian victory in the Olympics, somehow we feel that we still as individuals breed the world's best hockey players.

And only the best, not the near best, should be put in Moscow next spring.

This isn't to suggest that we go for the thought that winning is all important; but losing is always easier to take when the regulars are in strip.

They weren't Saturday, great as were the Dutchmen in defeat.

Topping Rink Tumbles In Bonspiel Stunner

By BILL RAYNER

A startling double loss by the Dick Topping rink of Osoyoos in the two primary events of the 61st B.C. Bonspiel at Victoria Curling Club highlighted the opening day's play Monday as the record total of 88 rinks went into round-the-clock curling.

Topping was victim of the first major upset of the bonspiel when the unheralded Don Painton rink from the RCN frigate, St. Therese, thumped him 10-5, and knocked him out of the running in the Grand Challenge.

Topping had lost earlier in the day to Gar Taylor of Victoria, 6-5, to drop out of the Colonist primary. His rink entered the spiel as one of the favored foursomes, and is also a highly-regarded B.C. Consols finalist.

The Painton quartet, that lost its Colonist primary game Saturday night to Jim Lackie of Victoria, has only been curling together as a unit for less than a dozen games.

Another visiting Consols rink, Gerry Green's unit from Vernon, bit the ice in the Colonist primary, 10-9, to Dr. D. R. Ross of Victoria, but won its Grand Challenge game against Eric Bullock, Victoria, 10-6.

Tony Gutoski, Victoria entry in the Consols, won his second game of the 'spiel, a 12-7 victory over Ernie Gordon of Victoria, in the Grand Challenge, while several other rinks notched double victories through the day.

OTTAWA (CP) — The International Sled Dog Derby, scheduled to begin here Wednesday, has been postponed indefinitely because of lack of snow and the prospect of freezing rain.

Close, But Not Close Enough

The Victoria Times $100 prize for an eight-ender suffered its first determined assault during the 11 p.m. draw Monday when Dr. Ross shoved over a six-ender in downing Hugh Renfrew, Victoria, 12-6. A number of five-and-four-enders were scored, with Consols finalist Bill Hoffman of Chilliwack turning in a five-ender twice in a row to thump Bob Reid of Port Alberni, 16-3.

Easiest victory of the opening day was the 19-1 win by the Bill Wadsworth rink of Duncan over Rev. T. Jones, Victoria, while veteran Vancouver curler Bung Cartmell established himself as a bonspiel favorite with two easy victories in each of the primaries, 18-2 over Phillips of Prince George, and 12-2 over Wm. Barr of Victoria.

Only one game was defaulted in the opening day's play. The RCAF D. Smith foursome from Comox failed to show for its afternoon game with Cam Earle of Duncan, and by this morning was still missing.

A standby Victoria rink skipped by Colin Wells, with Bill Heath as third, E. H. Church as second and Alex Raines as lead, has entered the 'spiel in Smith's place.

Curling will continue all day today and early into Wednesday morning as play advances through the 32s of the two primaries. Play also starts today in the secondary events, while a few tertiary event games may be scheduled this evening.

The Consols final, with eight zone winners participating in a double draw knockout, will start Thursday.

Cats Take Big Step

Edge Canucks at Vancouver, Meet Leaders Here Tonight

Victoria 2, Vancouver 1

Victoria Cougars took the first step Monday night in what they hope will be the path to the leadership of the western division of the Western Hockey League.

Tonight they hope to put the other foot forward.

If they are successful in that endeavor they would, by tomorrow morning, be but three points behind the Vancouver Canucks.

Rookie Don Chiupka, the slim centre who gets most of his goals away from home, did just that at Vancouver Monday as he fired his 14th counter of the year in the third period to break a 1-1 tie and give the Cougars a 2-1 decision over the Canucks.

It was the second Cougar win on Vancouver ice this season and only Vancouver's fifth defeat at home.

The winning marker came on a pass out from Skip Teal, Chiupka sliding the puck between goalie Ray Mikulan's legs.

33 FOR COLIN

Earlier in the fray, Cougar captain Colin Kilburn gave the Cougars a 1-0 bulge late in the first period on his 33rd goal of the season.

Tom McCarthy of the Canucks squared matters in the final minute of the first frame on a breakaway from centre ice, and thus the score remained until Chiupka provided the winner.

Tonight at Memorial Arena the Cougars will meet the Canucks again.

A second victory would leave them in a challenging position and the opportunity to take the league lead by the weekend, meeting New Westminster Royals on Friday and in New Westminster Saturday.

Following the final Cougar goal Monday, Canucks put on a determined offensive with goalie Marcel Pelletier of the Cougars rising to great heights to preserve the triumph.

Cougars might have added to their margin, except that Doug Macauley's shot at the open net in the final minute and 25 seconds hit the cross bar, and another effort slid by the open goal.

PELLETIER LEADS

The Cougar victory also gave Pelletier a two-goal edge over Mikulan in the goalies' race, Pelletier now leading the entire Western Hockey League in goals-against-average.

Canucks were short centre Wiggy Wylie, and forward defenceman Carl Kaiser, Monday.

Wylie suffered a shoulder separation Friday night against Calgary and may be lost to the club for the season. Kaiser was rested because of a knee injury. Canucks were also further weakened when Ray Cyr was carried from the ice in the third period following a heavy check from Bill Dobbyn of the Cougars.

Game time tonight at Memorial Arena is 8.30.

Arrows Win Saanich Title

Ronnie Benn poured in 25 points Saturday night to lead Arrow Furniture to an 80-66 victory over Sooke in the decisive game of a two-game, total-point series for the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League senior C men's championship.

The victory gave Arrows the title by 14 points as the clubs had tied 60-60 in the first game.

Al Olmstead of the losing Sooke squad was the game's leading scorer with 30 points.

Arrows now advance against Duncan in a two-game series for the lower Island title, with the first game scheduled for Brentwood Community Hall, Feb. 17.

Warriors Threaten Stampeder Leadership

Winnipeg 6, Calgary 1

CALGARY (CP) — Winnipeg Warriors moved to within one point of first-place Calgary Stampeders in the Prairie division of the Western Hockey League when they racked up a 6-1 triumph over the listless Stamps before 5,787 fans Monday night.

It was the sixth straight defeat for the Stamps who have watched their once-healthy lead atop the Prairie division slowly narrowed in the last two weeks.

Gary Aldcorn and Eric Nesterenko paced Warriors with two goals each while singletons went to Hugh Barlow and Danny Summers. Archie Scott scored the only Calgary goal.

Warriors bolted into a 3-1 lead in the first period and added three unanswered markers in the second. Neither club scored in the final 20 minutes.

Warriors took advantage of all the breaks in the second period to rack in their three goals. Summers scored off the leg of Sandy Hucul and Nesterenko netted his second goal 20 seconds later when he took a pass from Aldcorn at the Calgary blueline and skated in to beat Freddy Hucul on defence and Frederick.

Bill Mosienko was penalized with 1½ minutes to go in the period and Warriors netted a goal while he was off. Aldcorn picked up a pass from Paul Masnick in front of the Stampeder net and flipped the puck into the corner.

$1,500 MUST BE RAISED

Straths Appeal To Soccer Fans

The future of the Victoria Strathcona entry in the Coast Soccer League has been left in the hands of Victoria's soccer followers.

The Victoria team has been reaccepted in the revised summer circuit but it is necessary for team officials to file a cheque for $1,500 with league headquarters no later than Saturday.

The team does not have this kind of money and, at present, can see no way of raising it.

Therefore, the team is appealing to the public for financial aid.

Club president Jim Lackie said Monday, "If we can't raise the money, we will have to fold and that would be a bitter blow after we were successful in gaining a spot in the new league. But, to stay in, we'll need the help of every fan in the city to raise this entry fee. Otherwise, we'll be out."

Lackie pointed out that the Strathcona team has the potentiality to be one of the best to come out of Victoria.

The soccer season has been a rough one for Strathconas as bad weather and poor support at the gate has kept them in a financial bog.

However, in the person of former Scottish star Willie Hamilton, the club has picked up a fine player and a first rate coach who has done a great deal to polish up the younger players on the squad.

If Straths are successful in raising their entry fee, and qualifying for the league, they will play a summer schedule that should end the winter weather worries.

Soccer fans who wish to donate to the entry fee may do so by contacting Lackie at 4-1441 or 3-6298; secretary Don Gray at 4-8336 or manager Charlie Lewis at 4-2917.

Province Cup Soccer Begins

The annual Province Cup soccer competition starts this week with five teams entered.

Two games will be played this week-end in the knockout competition.

On Saturday at Athletic Park, Brodies Bakery will meet Canadian Scottish and on Sunday, Esquimalt and Heaneys meet at Heywood Avenue Park.

The following Saturday, Victoria Strathconas of the Coast Soccer League take on the winner of the Esquimalt-Heaneys match.

NEW ORLEANS—Joe Brown, 136, New Orleans, stopped Arthur Persley, 138, Red Cross, La. (9).

FARMERS, D & D RESUME HOOP SERIES

Dickinson & Dunn will carry a one-game lead tonight when they meet Farmer Construction in the second game of a best-of-five final for the city Senior B basketball championship.

The clubs meet at Central Junior High School gym at 9 tonight in the feature of a three-game card.

Dickinson & Dunn, off their undefeated record in league play, are rated as favorites to win the series, but Farmers have been turning in some of their best basketball of the season recently. With big Charlie Boyd leading the scoring, Farmers dropped Drake Hotel in the semifinal and were just edged out in the first game of the final.

Soviet Sport Chief Rubs It in a Little

CORTINA (UP) — Nikolai Romanov, the Soviet sports minister, boasted today that Russia's top ranking in the Winter Olympics was "what we came for" and forecast the same thing will occur at the Melbourne summer games.

Romanov, the chairman of the Russian All-Union Sports Committee, said "we came here expecting wins in events in which we were strong and to gain experience in the others. We did both.

"And we're going to be way out in front at the Summer Olympics in Melbourne," he added.

The smiling 45-year-old official said he was "satisfied" with Russia's bag of six gold medals and 10 others from their first Winter Olympics.

WILL BE READY

Romanov said a big Russian contingent would travel to Australia, fully-trained and prepared for the "biggest sports competition of all time."

Romanov said the winter Olympics were a "tremendous success" in that they were organized brilliantly, helped boost athletic standards to "new heights which would have been declared impossible years ago" and "helped to demonstrate that the friendship between east and west sportsmen and women which started in a big way at Helsinki has become even stronger."

He said "when you consider that there wasn't a single unpleasant incident through the games — even in a sport as rough as ice hockey—then you can realize the real value of these games. Sports is above politics and is increasingly building up a deep and sincere bond between us all."

Romanov said Russia's policy these days is to send more teams to international contests abroad and to invite as many foreign aces as possible to Russia.

"We may even bid for the 1964 Olympics with Moscow as the site," he said. "Although no decision on this has yet been taken by the Russian sports presidium."

Powder-Puff Puncher Becomes KO Specialist

NEW YORK (UP)—Featherweight Miguel Berrios of New York, a powder-puff puncher who suddenly turned knockout specialist, was being considered for a fight at Madison Square Garden today because of his avenging technical kayo victory over Bobby Courchesne at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night.

Stocky Berrios, 23, may get the winner of the March 2 Garden fight between Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn and Baby Vasquez of Mexico City.

When Miguel stopped Courchesne of Holyoke, Mass., at 2:29 of the fifth round in their return television fight Monday, it was only the third kayo victory in his career of 19 bouts. But it was his second kayo in a row.

More important, it was his second fight since Mundito Medina became his trainer. Medina, who groomed ex-welterweight champion Kid Gavilan during most of his career, explained today, "Miguel was a swinger when I take him. Swingers don't punch hard. So I shorten his punches to solid hooks, and he knocks out Pat Marcune on Jan. 2 and Courchesne last night."

Taller Courchesne had won a majority decision over Berrios in their previous bout at St. Nick's on Nov. 14. But that was before Medina, the song-writing trainer, began singing about short hooks to Miguel.

NOT GARNET, BUT HIS COUSINS

The Campbells Are Here

BY BILL RAYNER

A leather-faced, elderly Saskatchewan farmer has brought the lately-famous curling name of Campbell into Victoria Curling Club's 61st B.C. Bonspiel.

Art Campbell of White Bear, Sask., and his two sons, Ken and Gordon, are wintering in Victoria from their two sections of land in the prairie province. Art is a cousin of Garnet Campbell of Avonlea, Sask., who skipped his family rink to the Macdonald Brier Dominion curling championship last year.

The White Bear Campbells admit, however, that their curling isn't quite up to the stuff of Garnet and his boys.

Art and his two sons are more adept at grain farming, adept enough to be able to enjoy a winter's holiday on the coast. The father is a regular winter visitor to Victoria, but this is Ken and Gordon's first year.

Art grew up in Avonlea, with numerous other Campbells, before leaving for White Bear and a spell of school teaching. He eventually returned to farming. The White Bear Campbells have curled with the Avonlea clan, but have yet to win major prizes in any bonspiel (let alone win the Canadian crown).

Garnet's success, or lack of it, in the 1956 Saskatchewan Consols playoffs hasn't filtered down to the Campbells in Victoria yet, but they do know that he was knocked out of the running in the Regina Bonspiel.

The Campbells like Victoria fine, finding it quite a change from Saskatchewan's wintry blasts. They find the curling at VCC a bit different, too, with the ice much keener than in White Bear. The White Bear curling is on natural ice, of course, while VCC has artificial ice.

As far as curling in the present bonspiel is concerned, the Campbells are meeting with fair success.

Early Monday, they lost to the H. Jordon rink of Kimberley, 8-5, to be knocked out of the grand challenge in their first game. Jordon is skipping one of the Consols rinks.

The Campbell aggregation found their stride in The Colonist primary late Monday, however, surviving a five-ender by Law of Victoria to advance to the 32s, 10-8.

Son Ken is skipping the rink, with Gordon as third, Art as second, and Victoria curler Dave Stewart at lead.

And it's quite possible that this branch of the curling Campbells might now be on the way to a bit of bonspiel fame themselves.

Campbell Not Aghast Over Dutchmen's Loss

MONTREAL (BUP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, thinks Russia's recent sweep of the Olympic Hockey Tournament was one of the "greatest things that could have happened" to Canada's national sport.

"I don't know what all the excitement is about," he said in an interview yesterday. "As a matter of fact, I said six years ago that Russia would be the next great hockey nation. Why shouldn't they be? They have all the natural advantages Canada does, plus the population and desire to excel."

Campbell doesn't see the need for viewing the double loss suffered by Canada's Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen with alarm.

"The Kitchener team was the best available and they were a credit to Canada and themselves," he said. "But let's face it, there are at least 25 teams in North America that could probably beat them."

The NHL president said he has believed for a long time that the Olympics should become open competition between the best athletes in the world, whether they are amateurs or pros.

"There just isn't any such thing as an amateur any more," he added. "Canada's hockey team is no more amateur than Russia's according to the Olympic definition of an amateur. Just look at the manner in which athletes prepare themselves for the Olympics, or any major competition. They spend hours every day to improve their skill and proficiency, and to me that is strictly a professional attitude."

Campbell, a former Rhodes scholar who distinguished himself as a First World War crimes trial lawyer, also would like to see the Russian hockey team make a North American tour next year.

"It would be a major undertaking, probably too big for the CAHA (Canadian Amateur Hockey Association) to handle. I think a group like the Arena Managers' Association (the corporations that controls most of the major ice rinks in eastern North America) would be the logical people to sponsor such a tour."

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Irish Wayne Cooke, 128, Puente, Calif., stopped Sandy Alvarez, 124, Calexico, Calif. (2).

KNOW YOUR B.C. CONSOLS' SKIPS

The top curlers in British Columbia are gathered in Victoria this week for the 61st annual B.C. Consols at Victoria Curling Club, an event that will solidify Victoria's spot on the curling map. To familiarize Victorians with the names that make curling news in the province, The Times today begins this feature, Know Your B.C. Consols Skips, written by curling writer Bill Rayner.

TONY GUTOSKI

DICK TOPPING

VICTORIA CURLING CLUB'S Icemaker and zone one B.C. Consols representative Tony Gutoksi isn't quite sure how long he has been curling, but it all started back in Eden, Manitoba, with wooden blocks, bent spikes for handles and a frozen creek for an ice sheet. Now 39, Tony came to VCC as full-time icemaker two winters ago. This is his second straight year as representative of the Island in the B.C. Consols. Last year at Kamloops, with the same rink he has now, Gutoski finished third, but is rated a good chance this week on his home ice.

NO STRANGER to Victoria Curling Club bonspiels, Dick Topping of Osoyoos will be eyeing a new chunk of silverware this week when his rink starts play in the B.C. Consols final, being held in conjunction with the 61st B.C. Bonspiel. Dick has taken away his share of prizes in previous 'spiels, but the Consols competition this year is only his second. Just a youngster in the curling ranks, relatively speaking, he has been curling just since 1945, but is still one of the favorites to represent the province. Dick lost to Reg Stone of Trail in his first Consols try in 1950.

WIN ISLAND TITLE

Clippers Down Gritty Drakes

Nanaimo 11, Drakes 6

By DENNY BOYD

Drake Hotel went down for the third time Monday night beneath the hockey flood from Nanaimo, but the drowning Drakes gave it a tussle before the maelstrom sucked them under.

Nanaimo Clippers downed Drakes, 11-6 at Memorial Arena for their third victory in the best-of-five for the Vancouver Island Amateur Hockey League playoff crown. The all-powerful Clippers now advance along the Coy Cup trail, meeting either Kerrisdale or Powell River in the cup semifinal.

While Clippers were fully deserving of their series victory, credit in large gobs must be given to the Drake team for their courageous stand in Monday's final game.

RANKS THINNED

Drakes were drastically depleted in the defensive ranks as they started the game with only two regular defencemen, Ab Wiebe and Hilliard Leachman. Leachman was taken to hospital late in the second period suffering from bruised ribs when he was hit in the chest by the butt-end of Bruno Ferlin's stick.

Wiebe was a tremendous figure for the Drakes. The burly defenceman played the first 11 minutes of the first period without a break and drew on an apparently inexhaustible store of energy as he attempted to rally his team.

When Wiebe was taken out for a third period breather, Drakes were forced to use Bob and Orv Coulter, both forwards, as a defensive combination.

Goalie George Hall, who suffered most from the lack of depth in the Drake defence, gave up a couple of soft-goals but still hurled back 41 Clipper shots, 19 in the first period alone.

Bill Sutherland and Lawrie Plensky led the relentless Nanaimo attack with three goals each; Don Ashbee had a goal and three assists, and league scoring champ Arnie Dugan picked up four assists.

The smell of an upset was heavy in the air in the first period as Drakes, by sheer desperation, controlled a large portion of the play and scored the first goal. Bob Fowler lost control of the puck at the Clipper blue-line, regained it and beat Walt Davis with a snap backhander. However, Sutherland, Defelice and Ferlin rapped in three goals in less than a minute and a half to give Clippers a 3-1 edge. Ed Varga pulled Drakes to within one goal as he converted a penalty shot in the last minute of the period.

Plensky scored all three of his goals in the second period as Clippers forged ahead, holding an 8-3 lead before Keith Lawrence and Art Green scored to make it 8-5.

However, Wiebe drew a charging penalty to open the last period and while he was off, Clippers struck for two quick goals, through Ashbee and Sutherland, to salt it away.

Following the game, Clippers received the Cross Store Trophy as league champions; Dugan took the Morrie Jones Trophy for the scoring championship and Bob Maude of Navy received the Fred Francis Trophy as the league's top goaltender.

Little Mo Pro Now; Playing Career Ends

CHICAGO (BUP)—Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly dropped from the ranks of the amateurs today and said she hoped to make a career as an instructor.

Miss Connolly was forced to drop out of competitive tennis after a July 20, 1954, accident in which she broke a leg while riding horseback.

"My playing days are completely over," she said. "I can't even play for recreation without the pain going down my leg."

However, she said she hopes to make a career with a sporting goods firm, conducting tennis clinics at high schools, playgrounds, and colleges.

"I want to pass on the things I have learned and teach as many kids as possible," she said.

Miss Connolly, who began competition as a 10-year-old in 1945, reigned as the world's top woman player from 1952 through 1954. In 1953 she won the National, Wimbledon, French and Australian championships.

Beliveau Regains NHL Scoring Lead

MONTREAL (UP)—Jean Beliveau, scoring five of the seven goals Montreal registered in three games last week, reclaimed the National Hockey League scoring leadership from Gordie Howe today, official league figures showed.

The husky, stylish centre scored eight of his team's last 14 goals to boost his goal output to 34 and a point total of 60, two better than Howe. The Detroit star, who was just as hot during January as Beliveau is now, scored a lone assist since he counted goal No. 299 of his career five games ago.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard, who with Beliveau combines to give the Canadiens the most powerful one-two punch in the league, picked up three points to remain in third place with 53 points on 28 goals and 25 assists.

Tod Sloan of Toronto recorded five points during the week to move up a notch into a fourth-place tie with New York's Andy Bathgate, each with 52 points.

Montreal goaltender Jacques Plante, improved his position as the league's best, permitting four goals in three games. The opposition has scored 95 goals against Plante and substitute goalie Bob Perreault for an overall mark of 1.79. Detroit's Glenn Hall has an even 2.00 mark on 102 goals in 51 games. Hall has the most shutouts, 10.

New York's rough-house defenceman, Lou Fontinato, continued as the league's most penalized player, totalling 146 minutes off ice, three better than Ted Lindsay of Detroit.

Gavilan Favored To Beat Britisher

LONDON (AP)—Former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan of Havana was a 3 to 2 favorite to defeat Britain's Peter Waterman tonight in their 10-round match at Harringay Stadium.

Despite the odds, many British sports writers think the 21-year-old Waterman's speed and punching power should carry him past the experienced 30-year-old Cuban. Gavilan, a veteran of 131 pro fights, finished training Monday and issued his usual victory prediction. "I train hard, I beat this boy."

Tony Beats Pancho

TORONTO (CP)—Tony Trabert upset Pancho Gonzales 11-12, 6-3 in a hard-slugging singles tennis match Monday night. It was the 32nd match of Jack Kramer's 100-match professional tennis tour.

Despite the loss, Gonzales holds a 24-8 lead in the tournament.

ONCE OFFERED BRIBE

Middlecoff Warns Of Gambling Evils

DALLAS (AP)—Cary Middlecoff said Monday night he is afraid that gambling may cause a scandal in golf to equal the basketball scandals of several years ago.

Speaking at a sports achievement dinner, Middlecoff said he was offered a bribe seven years ago to lose a golf tournament. "If it was like than then, I would say it's probably worse now, and a lot of this could be going on."

He said the Calcutta pools that are held at many of the tournaments were the quickest means of getting golf into disrepute and causing a scandal.

"There is too much tendency for a man to attempt to buy off a player if a large amount he could win from a Calcutta pool is involved," Middlecoff said. "The Calcutta pools usually are larger than the prize money for the golf tournament."

Mica Creek Dam--For Free—Is Aim of B.C. Government

Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers Monday laid down B.C. government policy on construction of the huge Mica Creek dam, on the main stem of the Columbia River.

He told the Legislature that our policy in respect to the Mica development is:

1. That we expect to have the storage dam built free of cost to the people of British Columbia.

2. That we would have the control and generation of all "at-site" power for the use of British Columbia.

3. That we would expect delivery of 20 per cent of the gross power generated on the American side by this storage delivered cost free to the Province of British Columbia.

Mr. Sommers referred to the proposed Mica Creek development in a report on his department, during the Legislature's budget debate.

He said the government's policy would mean the dam would be constructed "free, and what could be cheaper?" He said the government would also tax the dam "forever."

Referring to the federal government's study of a diversion of flood waters of the Columbia into the Fraser, Mr. Sommers said the B.C. government "is anxiously awaiting" results. He said B.C. engineers look on the plan with skepticism.

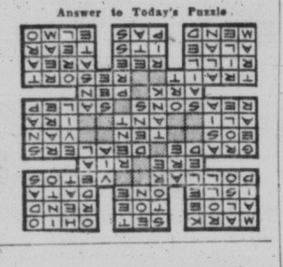
Answer to Today's Puzzle



HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books? Then ask Andy?

Andy, who is a pixie, not a person, will answer two questions daily submitted by child readers of Canada and the U.S. Children who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive as prizes, for the main question, either a 16-volume set of "The Children's Hour" or a 20-volume set of "The American People's Encyclopedia." Prizes for the secondary question will be an "American People's Encyclopedia Year Book" or a year's subscription to "Treasure Trails" plus "Andy's Everyday Encyclopedia."

Address your questions to "Ask Andy" Victoria Daily Times, Victoria.

Andy sends a complete, 16-volume set of The Children's Hour to Jackie Court, aged 10, of Salt Lake City, Utah, for his question:

How Deep Is the Ocean?

Spin around a globe and look at the blue oceans. They seem to cover a great deal of the world. And so they do. About three quarters of the world is covered by seas. The ocean waters rest on deep floors of heavy rock. Only lately have we discovered much about what is at the bottom of the sea.

A lot of people thought the ocean floors were flat and even. Not at all. The floors of the seas are as bumpy and interesting as the dry land. There are hills and mounds. There are undersea volcanoes. There are huge chains of mountains buried far below the surface of the sea.

A map of the ocean floor is put together bit by bit. The depth is measured here and there, generally by echoes. For the oceans are far too deep to be measured with a stone on a string. Mapping the ocean floors is a long and tiresome job. It is not nearly finished.

Sometimes a deep valley is discovered in the ocean floor. The deepest so far discovered is in the Pacific Ocean. It is 6½ miles deep—that is 6½ miles below the surface of the sea. It is deep enough to bury Mt. Everest, the world's highest mountain, a mile below the waves.

With all these hills and hollows, it is not easy to give an exact depth of the ocean. Here it is only a half mile deep, somewhere else it is 4 miles deep. What's more, the really deep ocean begins far from land. The big land masses rest on sloping ledges of shallow seas. The deep ocean begins all of a sudden. The shallow slopes drop down in steep cliffs. Most of the ocean water rests in these deep basins.

We can give an average depth for an ocean. We can say how deep the sea would be if a giant bulldozer leveled off all the floor. But no two oceans have the same average depth.

The biggest and deepest ocean is the Pacific. Its average depth is 14,048 feet. If a bulldozer smoothed out the floor of the Pacific it would be over 2¾ miles deep all over. But points in it are over 6 miles deep. And in some spots, the ocean pokes up in islands.

The third largest ocean rates second in average depth. This is the Indian Ocean. Its average depth is 13,002 feet—almost 2½ miles. The stormy Atlantic is second in size and third in average depth. Off Puerto Rico is a hole in the ocean floor 30,246 feet below the waves. But the average depth of the Atlantic is 12,880 feet, just over 2¼ miles. The chilly Arctic Ocean is a shallow one. Its average depth is just about three quarters of a mile.

* * *

Andy sends a copy of The American peoples Encyclopedia Yearbook to Ray Levesque, age 13, of Ottawa, Canada, for his question:

What is an atom?

These days, talk is full of atoms and what the atom can do. Actually, the world and everything in it is made of atoms. Ninety odd different kinds of atom are the building blocks of everything we see. Each atom is the smallest possible part of an element. An atom of gold could be no smaller than it is, otherwise it would not be gold.

All atoms are made of tiny electrical particles. Some of the particles, protons, are charged with positive electricity. Some, electrons, are charged with negative electricity. The neutrons are electrically neutral. Each different atom has a different number of these particles. The protons and the neutrons are bunched together in the core, or nucleous. The number of protons equals the number of electrons. So any normal atom is electrically neutral.

Find Haydn Folio

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) —The earliest known copy of Haydn's Symphony in F Major No. 17, termed a discovery of major importance to the history of music, has been found in the Moravian church archives here. The manuscript had lain neglected almost 200 years in a large collection of 18th century music. It is perfectly legible.

CHINESE TROOP: At the regular meeting, Friday, patrol leader Ernie Quan was presented with his Camper's badge. Second Dan Quan his Religion and Life award. Interpreter's badge went to Ken Yeun, Wood Worker's to Ray Lang and Metal Workers to Henry Quan.

First-aid dealing with fractures were practised, and obstacle stunts were carried out. A number of the scouts are working on their Pathfinder's Badge to qualify them for their Queen's Scout Badge.

THIRD VICTORIA TROOP: Scouter George Bennett invested Bjorn Berg, Bruce Burton, John Condon and John Allen as scouts at the regular meeting Friday. Colin Hassell and David Haeghert were made patrol leaders and Douglas Wylie and Robert Redding advanced to be "seconds."

CHINESE PACK spent a handicraft evening at their regular meeting Monday some good models were turned in to go towards second star.

The snowfall last week did not deter seven senior scouts from the 2nd Duncan Troop who climbed the Koksilah Ridge, pitching their tents in the snow by the icy shores of Lois Lake.

The scouts were Dick Marshall, Trev Taylor, Rick Paulding, Erling Jorgensen, Selby Eberts, Pat Phillips and Peter Calverly.

A crisp 13 degrees above zero was ideal, as it kept the snow firm enough to pitch their tents. The cooking fires, however, were soon things to "look down on" as they melted a channel down to the ground.

The boys slept under canvas in their sleeping bags. Each spent one hour on watch. A hike around the lake in the morning and then a return home—a real scouting expedition. Congratulations, scouts!

* * *

Scouter George Bennett showed movies and colored slides to the mothers' auxiliary of the Oak Bay group at the Scout Hall, Monterey Avenue. Over 40 ladies attended. Refreshments were served.

* * *

THIRD VICTORIA GROUP committee held its monthly meeting Monday. Plans were made for church parade on Feb. 26. A film night and a bazaar will be held in the fall.

* * *

MESACHIE GROUP: At a meeting of the committee, scouters J. Coats and D. Berry reported that scouts and cubs were attending the meetings regularly and showing a keen interest in the projects carried out. Plans were made to hold a parents' night close to Founder's Day.

SCOUTMASTERS, ROVER leaders: Don't forget the Green Plume meeting next Thursday at 8 p.m. at headquarters.

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Trading was dull and routine on the Winnipeg grain exchange today.

There was little activity in flax. Exporters made some purchases. Prices were narrow.

Domestic shippers bought oats and barley for feed. Prices moved narrowly.

Rye prices were irregular, reflecting U.S. markets.

Class Two, IWA and domestic wheat prices were unchanged.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP)—Old crop soybean futures showed the only strength in a highly irregular grain market on the board of trade today.

Gains in nearby soybean deliveries ran to more than a cent at one time.

Wheat firmed for a time following news the U.S. agriculture department will offer its stocks of farm surpluses to exporters on credit. Heretofore it has been necessary to pay cash. The gains weren't held.

BETWEEN TIMES
By MONTE ROBERTS

I have been asked to report on whatever happened to Our Very Own mayoralty candidates, Elmer Fadd, Elmer Fedd, Elmer Fidd, Elmer Fodd, Elmer Fudd and Elmer Fydd.

Have they withdrawn from the political scene? is the question.

On the contrary! Is the answer.

Messrs. Fadd to Fydd, inclusive, are organizing to expand their activities into broader fields.

Their first intention is to become active in provincial affairs, and to this end they are preparing a platform for discussion at an organizing convention.

Messrs. Fadd to Fydd, inclusive, are convinced an election is in the offing, and they intend to be prepared.

They have not yet hit upon a name for the party they intend to organize, but they have decided it won't be a party, it will be a movement.

And they have decided on the main plank in their platform:

Money.

The attitude of Messrs. Fadd to Fydd, inclusive, about money is, it is a bad thing.

So they are going to come out against money and in favor of health.

They figure a movement can't go wrong if it condemns the monetary system and approves health.

The way they are going to do this is quite clever. They are going to prove that money is the worst carrier of disease known to man.

Messrs. Fadd to Fydd, inclusive, have retained the services of the eminent Parisian scientist, M. Remle LeGoolf, to make comparative bacteria counts of bills of various denominations. M. LeGoolf is going to examine these bills under his scientific microscope, and make a report written in hydrogen peroxide on sterile gauze.

It is expected M. LeGoolf's report will prove the bacteria content of a five-dollar bill is five times as great as that of a one-dollar bill; and that of a 10-dollar bill is 10 times as great as a five-dollar bill; and that of a 20-dollar bill 20 times as great as a 10-dollar bill.

In other words, Messrs. Fadd to Fydd expect M. LeGoolf to prove the danger to health increases in multiple permutation to the denomination of the bill.

Once this is established, it will be obvious that 1,000-dollar bills are dangerous in the extreme, and that something must be done to eliminate them from every-day circulation in cigar stores and corner groceries, where scores of good B.C. people may be exposed to disease.

Messrs. Fadd to Fydd haven't worked out the details yet, but when elected their first act will be to get rid of 1,000-dollar bills. Elimination of 100-dollar bills, 50-dollar bills, 20-dollar bills, 10-dollar bills, five-dollar bills, and one-dollar bills, will come later.

Our Very Own Candidates believe in making haste slowly.

And I believe in Our Very Own Candidates. I will keep you posted on their progress.

'Power Crazy' Policies Attacked by Wildlife Expert

People "crazy for hydro power" are being allowed to destroy in British Columbia some of the best recreational areas in North America.

This is the opinion of Cleveland Grant, one of United States top movie makers on wildlife and creator of some of the best sequences in Walt Disney's famous film, "Vanishing Prairie."

Mr. Grant showed two of his spectacular wildlife films to a large audience at the Oak Bay High School auditorium Monday. The meeting was sponsored jointly by the Canadian Audubon Society and the Victoria Natural History Society.

In an interview with The Times, Mr. Grant deplored the way some governments in Canada allowed private power companies to destroy large tracts of land without any regard for the future. He particularly referred to British Columbia.

"The people are given little information about a power project," he said. "The next thing you know the government has approved the deal."

Mr. Grant added that if a person opposes a power project, he is accused of being against progress.

He felt that one of the worst aspects of these government-company power deals is that the public gets nothing in return from companies which are given control of vast areas of land and water.

He cited the Alcan project as an example.

"You should have got a first-class park from that deal," he said. "Any company which can spend so much money on a project could have done something to develop Tweedsmuir Park."

While admitting that governments in the United States had once acted in the same manner, Mr. Grant said Americans today would not stand for the way hydro-power projects are pushed through in Canada.

"There would be a fuss, and at least we would get something in return," he said.

Mr. Grant said civil servants are not to blame for the state of affairs.

"It's the politicians who abide by a policy of expendiency without any regard for the future," he said.

He predicted the people of North America will be short of recreational areas before they are short of electrical power.

"It is also my opinion that in 10 years' time hydro-electric power will be replaced by atomic power," he said. "That is why I say we should think of the future."

He said he is not against progress, but opposed to any project where the losses far exceeded the gains.

"There is a tendency today to make a fast easy buck," he said. "Few people realize what the results will be."

Mr. Grant and his wife, Ruth, have traveled together over most of North America taking pictures of wildlife. Since 1932, they have delivered more than 5,000 wildlife lectures to audiences totaling over 2,000,000.

The couple spends about two weeks a year at their home at Mineral Point, Wisconsin. The rest of the time they are outdoors or lecturing at universities and cities throughout the United States.

B.C. ARTIST HAILED

Jan Zach Student Successful in East

A west coast artist, whose boldly conceived mural decorates one wall of the Victoria Daily Times newsroom, has found success in eastern Canada—both artistically and financially.

He is Duncan deKergommeaux, who, while in Victoria was a student of the distinguished artist and teacher, Jan Zach. The 28-year-old British Columbia born artist has recently had an exhibition of his work at the Teron-Torontow gallery in Ottawa.

As a result of this exhibition, deKergommeaux has sold a number of paintings and received a big mural commission. He has also sold several pieces of sculpture in Montreal recently.

The Ottawa exhibition consisted of 45 oils, water colors, pastels and drawings and one piece of sculpture.

Concerning the work, Carl Weiselberger in the Ottawa Citizen comments: "deKergommeaux is a good craftsman and artist who applies . . . a strong feeling for color, form and space structure to his de-rocking rocks and de-mounting mountains. That he can depict nature in a more realistic, figurative way can be seen from his pastels and watercolors . . . an artist who, it seems, has several styles in his fire."

deKergommeaux is regarded by this critic as a "good example" of the "striking semi-abstract avant-garde painting being done on the West Coast," which he feels is the only current stylistically Canadian painting to appear as distinct in regional flavor as the Group of Seven of 35 years ago.

The B.C. artist has also studied at the Banff School of Fine Arts and is represented in the permanent collection there.

Victoria's principal record of deKergommeaux' work and study here is the Victoria Times' mural.

Freakish Fog Fouls Flights; More Coming

Moist air, light winds and mild temperatures combined overnight to lay down a few patches of fog over Victoria and some of the surrounding areas.

Visibility cleared by mid-morning, but a repetition of weather conditions forecast for tonight points to fog re-forming Wednesday morning.

The freakish fog patches left many areas completely clear while closing in on others. Juan de Fuca Strait was closed in near the Victoria shoreline, but was clear from Race Rocks to Trial Island lights.

Trans-Canada Air Lines flights to Vancouver and Seattle were washed out this morning due to low visibility at the mainland airports, although Patricia Bay was clear.

On Monday two flights from Eastern Canada had to pass up Vancouver and land at Patricia Bay awaiting improvement in the weather. A Canadian Pacific Airlines plane from Hawaii also landed here until the mainland weather cleared.

ON SCHEDULE

Vancouver's International Airport cleared before noon, and TCA flights were on schedule from 11.45 a.m.

The Chamber of Commerce flight to Spokane, scheduled to leave this morning, was postponed to 1 p.m. The Spokane trip is to study the Spokane coliseum, suggested as a model for an all-purpose auditorium in Victoria.

Fog Monday also delayed movement of a polio patient from Royal Jubilee Hospital to Vancouver. Mrs. Marjorie Brown, 1023 Colville, was scheduled to leave Patricia Bay by air at 2 p.m. today.

MAKING LIGHT OF THE FOG?

Oak Bay police constable Charles Bates was on patrol on King George Terrace at about 2 a.m. today when he saw a car, motor running, stopped beside another.

He investigated and arrested Dennis M. Wilkinson, Nanaimo, and charged him with theft of two fog lights from the car, parked outside 368 King George Terrace.

Wilkinson pleaded guilty in court today and was remanded to Friday for sentence.

The other car belonged to Constable Bates and was parked outside his home.

$3,800 Lost To Forger

A city man will be sentenced in city police court Thursday on seven charges of uttering forged cheques, involving a total of $3,800.

Gordon Alvin Borkowsky, 25, has pleaded guilty to all charges.

Six charges involving a total of $3,150 were read in court today. He pleaded guilty Monday to a charge involving a $750 cheque.

All cheques were drawn on the Bank of Montreal and purported to be signed by Carlos Bellagento.

The offences occurred between Oct. 31, 1955, and Jan. 20, 1956.

Police said circumstances were identical in each case. Borkowsky endorsed the cheques at the Hillside Quadra branch of the Royal Bank of Canada and had the amounts deposited to his account.

COUN. SAMMON
"nothing accomplished"

Esquimalt Councillor Raps Inactivity of Joint Body

A frustrated Esquimalt councillor today called the Greater Victoria inter-municipal committee "a graveyard for civic business."

Coun. G. K. Sammon, chairman of the Victoria-Esquimalt Union Board of Health, told the Times:

"Several items of important business have been referred to the committee but there hasn't been a meeting so far this year.

"And nothing was accomplished last year."

LIST OF ISSUES

Already referred to the 1956 committee by local councils for study are:

The question of a district-wide ban on fireworks.

A per capita basis for grants to Victoria Symphony.

Amalgamation of Lower Vancouver Island health services.

A new working agreement for cost-sharing and jurisdiction in Victoria Public Library.

A recommendation for a delegate (provincial) to St. Joseph's Hospital board.

A move to determine whether the surrounding municipalities would wish to share to some extent in the proposed Victoria sewer depreciation replacement program.

Coun. Sammon is a member of the inter-municipal committee.

Coun. Sammon said: "To me it's ineffective. It didn't contribute anything over the last year. It could be the most important committee . . . truly a joint effort . . . it would be a forerunner to amalgamation."

Chairman of the 1955 inter-municipal committee was Ald. M. H. Mooney.

He was appointed to the committee this year along with Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and Ald. Arthur Dowell.

Ald. Edgelow was named to head the council delegation.

Ald. Mooney said the committee has not yet named a chairman.

"I don't know who has power to call a meeting but I will ask council on Friday."

He added he will ask that in future the chairman carry on from one inaugural meeting of the committee to the next.

Much of the delay encountered by the committee last year was because each issue sent to the committee for deliberation had to be referred back to the individual councils for decision.

The inter-municipal committee worked all year to arrive at a new plan for library cost-sharing and appeared to be meeting with some success when the year ended, and the committee members were changed.

3rd Impaired Charge Brings 3-Month Term

A Saanich man, three times convicted on impaired driving charges, was sentenced to three months in jail today.

Roy Blake, RR 1, Royal Oak, pleaded guilty through defence counsel James Proudfoot to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol Feb. 1 on Hollywood Crescent.

Blake, previously convicted on the same charges on Oct. 6, 1952, and March 13, 1954, was sentenced to the minimum jail term under the Criminal Code for a third-time offender.

CHANGED PLEA

He had earlier appeared without counsel and pleaded not guilty to the most recent charge.

However, he later retained Mr. Proudfoot as counsel and was then instructed by counsel to change his plea to guilty, court was told.

Constable Roy Foster testified he spoke to the accused at the police station at about 9.30 a.m. on Feb. 1, and warned him that due to previous convictions a heavier penalty would be sought.

Police said Blake was arrested at about 3 a.m. after he was seen driving in an erratic manner on Hollywood Crescent.

Blake was fined $50 or an additional 10 days in jail on a charge of driving while his licence was suspended.

Saanich Wage Bids Total $71,000, Reeve Ash Says

Wage increases and benefits requested this year by Saanich municipal employees, firemen and police unions, total $71,000, Reeve Arthur Ash disclosed today.

More Road Testimony By Sommers Tonight

Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers will continue his testimony before the Legislature's standing committee on mining and railways tonight at 8.

The committee is investigating construction of the Stewart-Cassiar road in northern B.C.

Mr. Sommers is a member of the committee, but was called as the first witness Monday in view of his position as Minister of Mines.

The road issue was raised in the Legislature by Bruce Brown (Lib.-Prince Rupert) and Frank Calder (CCF-Atlin). Both MLA's asked that a report said to have been made by engineer Edgar A. Jamieson, Sergeant-at-Arms in the Legislature, be tabled.

BUILDERS TO TESTIFY

Several other witnesses will be called by the committee, including Mr. Jamieson, George Palethorpe, forest service supervisor, W. A. Forrest, Victoria surveyor and engineer, and Dr. John F. Walker, deputy minister of mines.

Officials of Wade and Wells, Ltd., of Trail, contractor on the project, are also expected to be called to testify.

In the committee's first sitting Monday, Mr. Sommers blamed Mr. Palethorpe and Mr. Forrest for "lack of judgment" and unwillingness to give direct orders to the contractor.

Mr. Jamieson is a qualified civil engineer, who was sent to the job late in 1955, and whose report still has not been disclosed.

Fatal Crash Survivor Sent to Jail

"A fine seems to have no effect on you," Magistrate Henry C. Hall told Philip J. Fillion, 20, 1175 Yates, in city police court today.

Fillion, the only one of three young men to survive a fatal hot-rod crash in Saanich early in January, was sentenced to seven days in jail on a charge of driving while his licence was suspended.

The charge arose when Fillion was apprehended Sunday on Richmond Road.

Court was told the accused had five previous driving convictions since 1953, one of which was for impaired driving and another of careless driving.

Fillion was a passenger in a hot-rod which crashed Jan. 8 at Burnside and Marigold. John William Hitchin, 23, 1955 Kings Road, was killed almost instantly, and Frank Richard Lapp, 20, 1325 Lang, died in hospital more than two weeks later.

SYMPHONY CONDUCTORS MUST KNOW THE SCORE

Symphony conductor Hans Gruber returned to his rostrum four times Monday night to acknowledge wave after wave of applause for the performance of Sibelius' Finlandia by Victoria Symphony Orchestra at Royal Theatre.

He then stepped to the front of the stage wearing an expression of deep gravity. A speech seemed indicated—but Mr. Gruber had no speech. He announced the second period score in the Victoria-Vancouver hockey game (later won by Victoria, 2-1).

Mr. Gruber's consideration for the many anxious hockey fans at the concert evoked a fresh wave of applause; after which the concert proceeded.

Perky Corduroy Cushions For TV Room or Bedroom

By PENNY SAVER

They call them TV cushions, but I know you'll find many uses for them. As toss-pillows on the bed or comfy cushions on the chesterfield, the gay corduroy ones I've come across will certainly add many a spark of color. They're sturdy, and will take everyday wear and tear. Going for a jaunt in the car? A couple of these cushions tossed in will make the travelling more enjoyable. Even the softest car seats seem pretty hard after a couple of hours of travel. In the children's room, to prop up on the bed, they'd be very practical. They'll take many a pillow fight, too. When watching TV, I like to sit on the floor, and a soft, yet durable cushion is in order. These fill the bill, and I don't have to worry about soft fabrics becoming tattered.

Buy them in matching colors or mix the colors to make the effect interesting. Each costs 98 cents (they were $1.39) and come in turquoise, black, grey, blue, pink, orange, moss green, chartreuse forest green, gold, brown, tan cerise, royal blue and sky blue. They're square and have a big covered button right in the middle.

The dogwood, not officially, but generally accepted by most British Columbians as this province's emblem, can be seen in many places. Besides growing everywhere, it "sprouts" on coats, suits and jewelry counters. Yes, jewelry and ceramic pieces abound in dogwood patterns. Now you may have it in the kitchen, too. The latest thing I've seen is a set of dishes carried by only one store in Victoria, which has an attractive, impressive dogwood pattern on it. It isn't an all-over pattern, but each piece has on it a single giant blossom, with leaves. A 20-piece set costs $9.95. It's Staffordshire, and would be attractive in any kitchen.

Kitchen towels, depending on their color and appeal, can be either a bright addition to the overall beauty of your kitchen or a definite sore spot. Naturally, you'd prefer to have them blend in the kitchen's colors, and look as if they belonged in the decoration. Colorful and absorbent ones with fringed ends measure 17 by 30 inches and cost just 33 cents each. Modern kitchens are in such blazing colors now that these towels have been made to match them. They're checkered or striped, and come in red, blue, black, pink, green and yellow. Plain colored ones, the same price, are in mint green, moss green, grey, red, rust, yellow or blue. Tuck a few away for that bridal shower for a friend. They'll be appreciated.

Call me at 2-3131 and I'll tell you where to find the items mentioned.

Harmless Showing Off Should Be Tolerated

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Teen-agers, especially boys, feel they must prove to others as well as to themselves that they are brave, manly, good sports and everything that is admired by others.

Hurlock

(Q)—"I am concerned about my son who is 16 years old and a junior in high school. He seems obsessed with the idea that he must prove his bravery no matter how dangerous it proves to be. He has gotten his licence to drive the car and drives so recklessly that my husband and I hate to see him go out. We are afraid he will get hurt or hurt someone else. The same is true with drinking. He is not allowed to drink but I know he drinks when he is at parties and I have heard from others that he drinks so much that he gets sleepy. He smokes endlessly behind our backs and is always talking to the young people about his 'love-making' techniques and how he can make the girls 'fall' for him. Do all teen-agers feel they must show off like this or is it just something characteristic of our son?"—Mrs. H. M..

(A)—There are very few teen-agers who do not go through a show-off stage similar to the type you have described. Because boys are expected to be "manly," which means brave and daring, they are generally worse show-offs than girls.

When a boy is not sure of himself and of how people feel about him, he is likely to go to greater extremes than is the boy who is sure that others admire and respect him. In your son's case, it sounds to me as if he had a slight feeling of inferiority which he is trying to compensate for.

Until a teen-ager gains enough self-assurance that he does not have to bid for attention and admiration, there is little that parents can do to curb this show-off behavior. However, when your son does things that are or could be very dangerous, such as driving a car recklessly, it is time to put a stop to it by refusing to allow him to have the car.

On the other hand, when his showing-off is harmless, even if it is foolish, as in the case of boasting about his conquests, let him inflate his ego this way so long as he feels the need to do so.

Women

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Passengers on Flight 111 from Vancouver to Patricia Bay last Saturday afternoon were held in sympathetic silence by the frightened whining of a pup up forward in the pilot's section of the plane.

At least we judged it was a pup by a conversation we could hear between a father and daughter sitting up ahead as near to the door to the pilot's quarters as they could get.

Bessie

"Daddy . . . he's scared," said a tearful voice. . . . "Now, now, he's alright. Nothing can hurt him," came back a resonant and determined reply. . . . "Daddy, couldn't I go in and see . . .?" questioned the tearful voice, punctuated by fierce whines from up forward. . . . "Sit still," said the masculine voice, "he's all right. We'll be down very soon and then you can see him." . . . "Ah-h-h! D-a-d-d-y;" pleaded the tearful voice. . . . But Daddy had disappeared behind a newspaper.

When we reached Patricia Bay, anyone aboard who loved dogs was quite in sympathy with the tearful voice and ready to help with a smile and a nod of approval as we stood up to depart.

Daddy and the tearful voice—who turned out to be George Gregory, MLA, and his daughter Anne—were quite the centre of attraction, I can tell you, and I imagine that many of the passengers . . . including myself . . . would like to have loitered a bit to see the pup released to his young mistress.

However, we were rushed along to our bus . . . and had to leave father and daughter waiting for the puppy . . . which we visioned as a tiny cocker or perhaps a terrier, by the sound of the whines.

Sequel to this story came yesterday when I met Martha Gregory shopping for the day's groceries.

"How is the puppy?" I questioned anxiously. "The poor little thing had a frightening experience on Saturday." Martha Gregory stared at me. "Little thing!" she said breathlessly. "That was a Rhodesian Ridgeback . . . very rare in this part of the world, they tell me. He's only a few months old and he already weighs 40 pounds."

Father and daughter traveled especially to Vancouver to get the pup. "But it isn't Anne's entirely," Mrs. Gregory explained. "It belongs to the family." She did say, however, that Anne is very fond of animals. "Horses, dogs, anything! Why, she even wanted to keep rabbits and when we suggested this wasn't quite the time for that she said they would be no trouble . . . she would keep them in her room."

What did Martha Gregory do when the "pup" arrived? "I took the car and went off to visit some sick friends," she confesses, "and let them settle it in to the home themselves. However, I do love dogs and he is going to be a great pet," she added.

It's a 'Lucky Year' Says Mrs. Roskelly

It was a complete surprise to Mrs. W. R. Roskelley, active worker in the IODE for many years, when she received a life membership in the Order, Monday evening.

"I had no idea . . ." she said rather breathlessly. Then she added, "but this must be my lucky year. I've had a new grandson and two life memberships presented to me within the past few weeks."

First honor came to Mrs. Roskelley at the annual meeting of the Evening Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Anglican Church, when she was presented with a diocesan life membership in the Woman's Auxiliaries of the Anglican Church in Canada. Monday evening she was presented with the IODE life membership at the annual meeting of the Florence Nightingale Chapter in which she has been an active member for many years and where she was elected regent for the coming year.

The grandson? Well, a baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sullivan (the former Miss Ilace Roskelley) a little over three weeks ago. The Sullivans already have a little boy, 16 months old.

"That brings my grandchildren to six. What do you think of that," Mrs. Roskelley says with pride.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Malcolm Wed in Evening Ceremony

Frances Mary Isabella Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Hughes, 5836 Old West Road, Saanich, wore a ballerina length bridal gown of white nylon and lace for her wedding to Mr. Donald A. Malcolm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Malcolm, Slate Falls, Ont., Saturday evening.

To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a shoulder length misting veil, and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and pink rosebuds. She was given in marriage by her father.

Rev. George Richmond officiated at the ceremony in North Douglas Tabernacle, where baskets of spring flowers and chrysanthemums formed the background. Soloist Miss Joy Price sang the "Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register. She was accompanied by Mrs. George Richmond.

Matron of honor, Mrs. R. Hooks, wore a pastel mauve dress, and carried a colonial bouquet of chrysanthemums, while senior bridesmaid, Miss Isabel Harrison, and junior bridesmaid, Miss Evelyn Hughes, wore pale blue and pastel yellow, respectively, and carried colonial bouquets of chrysanthemums. Flower girl Beverly Hooks wore pastel yellow and carried a basket of chrysanthemums.

Best man was Gordon Jackson, while ushers were Ken Wardell and Harry McFarlene.

A reception followed at Hampton Hall, which was decorated with pink and white streamers and bells. The lace cloth covered bride's table, was centred with a two-tier wedding cake, flanked by pink carnations and pale green candles. Chrysanthemums decorated the mantlepiece and were arranged on either side of the fireplace.

Cecil McRae, cousin of the bride, proposed the toast to her future happiness.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, the bride wore a charcoal-blue suit with navy and pink accessories and a pink orchid corsage. When they return, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm will live at 1409 Camosun Street.

Spring flowers and baskets of white chrysanthemums flanked the pulpit. Mrs. R. Wood, organist, played traditional wedding music, and Miss Beverley Husband, soloist, sang "Crimmond."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin bridal gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and long, lily-point sleeves. The deep V-neckline was trimmed with lace embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Circlets of lace embroidered with seed pearls and sequins held her misting veil of tulle bordered with lace. She wore a string of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her bouquet was of white carnations centred with blue iris.

Miss Catherine Kennedy, as maid of honor, and Miss Beverley Aitken and Miss Sally Wilkinson as bridesmaids attended the bride. They wore identical gowns of blue burgundy taffeta with scoop necklines and extended, fitted waistlines. Their hats were white feather Juliet caps, and they carried bouquets of blue iris centred with white carnations.

Best man was Alfred Hughes, while ushers were John Houston and Vernon Goudall.

At a reception which followed in Olde England Inn, spring flowers decorated the rooms, and flanked the three-tier wedding cake which centred the bride's table. Harry Cathcart proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. Rowan, in a champagne dress of peau de soie with navy accessories, and Mrs. Petkovich, in a blue knitted dress with winter white accessories, assisted the bridal couple in receiving their guests.

For her going-away outfit, the bride wore a pale blue wool crepe sheath dress with an empire waistline, navy accessories and a red tweed coat. When they return, Mr. and Mrs. Petkovich will live at 550 St. Charles Street.

Why your child needs your help when pimples strike

by MARCELLA HOLMES NOTED BEAUTY AUTHORITY
(former Beauty Editor of "Glamour" magazine)

Of all the mail that reaches a beauty editor's desk, there is none so urgent as letters from adolescent girls with pimples. That's why I want to alert mothers to the double dangers of this problem. Specialists warn that pimples undermine poise and self-confidence, can cause permanent damage to a child's personality. And everyone knows that acne-type pimples, if neglected, can leave permanent scars on the skin.

Is there a way you can help your child? Yes, thanks to CLEARASIL, a modern, scientific medicated formulation especially for pimples. In actual clinical tests, CLEARASIL brought positive relief in a high percentage of cases.

Greaseless, fast-drying, antiseptic . . . CLEARASIL dries pimples surprisingly fast. Ends embarrassment immediately because CLEARASIL is skin-colored to hide pimples as it works. Must work for you as it did in clinical tests or money back. Only 69¢ and $1.19 at all druggists.

BOB HOPE IN INTERNATIONAL REVUE ON C-4 AT 8

WEEKEND COMMENT—Isn't it amazing what television is doing for us? Imagine even ten years ago the Churchills appearing on commercial radio shows. Yet a week ago Sunday the former prime minister's daughter Sarah traded jokes with Jack Benny and Sunday last his son Randolph tried to disguise his voice (unsuccessfully) to outwit panelists on What's My Line? A good thing this—good for the relationship between the two countries and good for the soul. . . .

Don't know what the latest figures are on the Perry Como-Jackie Gleason "fight" for viewers but Gleason isn't being helped much by the Dorsey Brothers' Stage Show surely? It is sometimes grim. However, we still turn to The Honeymooners for the bottom half of the hour. How about you? . . .

★ ★ ★

HOPE you caught the Sullivan show even if it was just to hear William Johnson and Judy Tyler sing excerpts from the Rodgers-Hammerstein hit, "Pipe Dream." As a matter of record it was one of Sullivan's best. . . .

What's happening to the TV industry in the U.S.? The Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers' Association announced Sunday that the production of TV sets in the United States reached a record in 1955. The output was 7,756,520 receivers compared with 7,346,715 in 1954 and 7,463,800 in 1950, which was the previous record.

CARROLL RICHTER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 8, 1956

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Let whomever you know that has real authority be aware of that worldly ambition which has long been gnawing at you but which you have been unable to do anything constructive about ere this. Then you get worthwhile aid.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Be sure to communicate with those far away who have some part in your current ambitions. Although it may take some time to get a reply you start matters in motion that can have highly prosperous issue.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Listen to that deep-seated hunch about way to make you have a greater amount of harmony with all who are vital to your success. Follow as soon as you have organized sensible plan.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Whatever work you have that requires contact with the general public can now be put into motion. Don't be sensitive if you are asked some personal questions about your backlog of experience. It's merely to find your niche.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Thinking ways to gain greater co-operation from all co-workers simple when you realize that your warm, understanding, happy smile is answer to any problem with another. Keep cheerful while completing dreary drabberies.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Focus your attention today upon gaining the good will of those toward whom your are personally attracted. Be sure that you do attend any meetings where you can cheer others into wise decisions. Fine for educational, young people.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—You now start a sweep upward. First, it's necessary you get rid of all the unimportant, useless, inefficient matters that may remain in your environment. Be sure to draw blueprint of just what you want. Then prepare to go after it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Now you can huddle with all associates and find out where they stand in your concerns as well as give them correct image of your goals. After arriving at such meeting of minds, you can finish errands, reports, etc.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Keep plugging away at the money matters you plugged into yesterday but did not have sufficient time to complete. Let others see you have good horse sense if you want their continuing support. Be practical today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—You can be just as personal as you like today. Let others know just exactly what you'd like to have from associating with them, and show them in down-to-earth terms that you'll reciprocate in kind.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Private consultations with intimates to find just where they stand reveals answers that give you clue to increased understanding. Get data from experts to forge ahead in worldly interests as well but keep it confidential.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Some long-desired ambition arises to give you renewed confidence that at last you can bend your efforts enthusiastically to obtain. Remember, the person who has stick-to-itiveness can have everything else.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN WEDNESDAY . . .

Wednesday's child is one of those solidly based children who will want a practical reply to any question that he, or she, may ask. Don't go beating around the bush or your offspring is likely to take more devious, and less worthwhile means, for finding out the facts of life and whatever intrigues his, or her, curiosity. However, if you are straight and uncomplicated with this tot, you will rear a loyal, hard-working, satisfactory offspring in the financial, business, or mundane matters his, or her, attention focuses on.

Death Train Engineer Has Many Ills

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The engineer of the Santa Fe train that hit a curve too fast and killed 30 persons in a wreck Jan. 22 said Monday he had a medical history of pulmonary tuberculosis, cancer and general tiredness.

Engineer Frank Parrish, 61, of San Bernardino, Calif., testified at an inquest that in September 1955 he had cancers taken off his hand and neck.

In 1946 he was out of work for seven months because of a recurrence of pulmonary tuberculosis. He said at that time he had a perforated duodenal ulcer, a spot on his lungs and peritonitis.

Under questioning by district attorney S. Ernest Roll, Parrish reiterated statements he made shortly after the wreck—that he had suffered a blackout.

'Big Brother' Satellite Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of launching a "big brother" space satellite to keep photographic watch on all parts of the globe is one of the long-range research projects interesting the United States Air Force, Air Secretary Donald A. Quarles confirmed Saturday.

(First description of the "big brother" satellite project was published in The Victoria Times Friday in a copyrighted article by Washington columnists Joseph and Stewart Alsop.)

Quarles told reporters, following a luncheon talk at an Air Force Association jet age conference, that "used in a long-range research sense" the air force has been interested in the possibility.

Sikhs, Hindus In Graham's 500 Converts

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Several Sikhs and Hindus were among 500 persons who filed up to the centre of a vast neon lighted tent here Monday to stand before American evangelist Billy Graham and "receive Christ in their hearts."

It was the third and final day of Graham's successful crusade in India's capital. More than 15,000 attended the meeting.

Graham spoke to the huge crowd in English, with phrase-by-phrase translation into Urdu.

Ministers and clergymen of the various Protestant churches who invited Graham to India were on the platform with him. The bishop of Delhi presided and Indian Health Minister Rajkumari (Princess) Amrit Kaur, a Christian, was there for the third day.

Antarctic Oasis At 77 Degrees Explored by Russ

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today a Soviet scientific party has explored a strange Antarctic oasis where the midday temperature rises to 77 degrees and there is primitive plant life.

The broadcast said the oasis covers about 200 square miles in Queen Mary Land, on the eastern edge of the permanently ice-bound Antarctic continent. The area was sighted in 1948 by an aerial observer with a U.S. expedition, but the Russians claim this is the first time man has set foot in it.

The radio account said: "In the opinion of members of the expedition the oasis appeared thousands of years ago after the ice receded. A high degree of solar radiation and the heat of the rocks makes the snow melt early in the spring. Powerful currents of warm air rise over the stony surface."

HITCHHIKING CHIMP PROVES PERSISTENT

ST. MICHAEL'S, England (AP) —Michael Blackburn stopped his car for a hitch-hiker and discovered it was a chimpanzee.

The chimp tried to open the door while Blackburn, not having bargained for such a passenger, held it closed.

While they were wrestling with the door, Mrs. Phyllis Cralton ran up and claimed the animal. She said he had run away from her nearby cottage, and that he loved to ride in cars.

"Before the chimp would let me drive on, he insisted on kissing me goodbye," Blackburn reported.

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—take things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead,—active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "tired-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 60 years Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order,—helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more fun out of life. If you are approaching fifty, or past it, Dodd's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Dodd's. 54

Forest Access Roads To Cost $3 Million

B.C. Forest Service plans spending almost $3,000,000 in the 1956-57 fiscal year on forest access roads, opening up timber now closed to loggers.

This was revealed Monday in a report on his department by Forests Minister R. E. Sommers. He told the Legislature the appropriation of $2,718,233 represents an increase of nearly 400 per cent over 1955.

"In 1956, it is anticipated that 82 miles of road will be constructed," he said.

During 1955, he said, 765 million cubic feet of Crown timber was sold, with an estimated value of $40,000,000, as compared with 531 million cubic feet with an estimated value of $19,000,000 in 1954.

SALES SOARING

"This represents a 44 per cent increase in volume, and 113 per cent in value," said Mr. Sommers. "The large increase in value was due to higher stumpage rates brought about by higher selling prices for logs and lumber."

He said there has also been a "marked increase" in the number of competitive timber sales. "In some cases, competition has been very keen, with bids as high as $62 per thousand board feet."

"For the 11-month period ending November, 1955, the total timber scaled was 5,599,378,485 board feet, which surpassed the total scale for the 12-month period of 1954.

"When the final figures are compiled for 1955, the total scale should approximate six billion board feet, an all-time record and an increase of nine per cent over the previous year. This entire increase came from the area east of the Cascades."

The forests minister said an additional 5,643,739 acres were brought under areas managed and operated under approved working plans during the year, "making a total of 15,586,434 acres now in this category.

"Included in this total are the 23 management licences covering 4,685,195 acres, and 32 public working circles covering 10,200,153 acres."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain. Thousands have been relieved—without resort to surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

(BB PLUS) "RANSOM" (Capitol): What proved to be an excellent hour-long television play turns out to be only another "average" full-length motion picture.

Televiewers will remember "Ransom" under the title "Fearful Decision," a U.S. Steel Hour-Theatre Guild production starring Ralph Bellamy. This was the tersely-told story of a wealthy business tycoon refusing to pay the $500,000 ransom demanded by the kidnappers of his eight-year-old son. Instead, in an impassioned telecast, he tells the kidnappers either to return his son to him alive and unmolested or he will place the entire amount on their heads, dead or alive. The decision not to pay the ransom temporarily loses him his wife, his brother, his friends and arouses the town against him. But the decision also brings back his son to him.

ALLOWING TIME OUT for commercials the original teleplay couldn't have lasted more than 45 to 50 minutes. The motion picture lasts 102 minutes or about twice as long. And here is where the trouble lies.

During the re-write the play has been "padded" and the padding material is not up to the calibre of the original by any stretch of the imagination. Where "Fateful Decision" was closely knit to the point of being sparse, "Ransom" fairly abounds in histrionics. There is one scene where Glenn Ford, one of the finest actors on the screen today, is caused to weep copiously on the shoulder of his faithful colored servant. There is another where the servant patters a psalm and the final fadeout that is an all-out plea for tears. And Heaven knows there are enough tears for all during the film.

* * *

IN THE TV PLAY THE wife is scarcely seen because so great is the shock that she is put to bed with a sedative. This should have happened to Donna Reed, too, both for the good of the picture and the good of Miss Reed. Not for some time do we remember a female having to wail and lament to the degree Miss Reed is called upon to do. This again is regrettable because Miss Reed is an actress of no mean merit as witnessed in her magnificent work in "From Here to Eternity" for which she won an Academy Award.

Let us hope that when TV plays are adapted for the wide screen that the padding is kept to the minimum and is of the same calibre as the original play. This, by the way, was accomplished in "Marty," one of the finest pictures made during 1955.

Moviemaker Zanuck Quits Hollyood Job

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Movie pioneer Darryl F. Zanuck is leaving the job of head of production at 20th Century-Fox Studios, to be succeeded by producer Buddy Adler, who has been named executive in charge of production.

Studio president Spyros P. Skouras Sunday announced officially that Zanuck has been granted a four-month leave of absence during which he will serve in advisory capacity.

"It is contemplated that the details of an agreement for an independent production unit to be headed by Mr. Zanuck will be worked out between him and the company," a company statement said.

He and Joseph M. Schneck founded 20th Century-Fox in 1933. Zanuck produced the first talkie movie, launched the gangster picture cycle and discovered such stars as Barbara Stanwyck, James Cagney and Marilyn Monroe.

Jarvis Spreading City Gallery Fame

Alan Jarvis, Director of the National Gallery at Ottawa, has been spreading the fame of Victoria's Art Gallery abroad.

On a visit to the city this fall—Mr. Jarvis was the first National Gallery director to make such a visit—he expressed not only interest and admiration, but amazement at what had been achieved here on a tiny budget.

As a result he has called attention to the Victoria Gallery at various other cities he has visited across Canada, and in consequence enquiries have been received here regarding the organziation and establishment of the gallery.

Latest of these enquiries have come from Charlottetown, P.E.I., and Sault Ste. Marie, both centres desiring to establish a gallery, using Victoria as a model.

U.K. Plan to End Arab-Jew Troubles Has U.S. Backing

LONDON (UP)—The United States, Britain and France will open negotiations in Washington Wednesday on joint action for bringing peace to the Middle East, the Foreign Office announced today.

The Foreign Office said the talks would be at ambassador level. The meeting was arranged during the recent conference between Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and President Eisenhower.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Eden today proposed an unarmed, multi-nation force under the United Nations to help oversee the truce in Palestine.

He told a press conference that if the 50-man truce team in Palestine under Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Ottawa is enlarged, it is the British view that the observers be recruited from "all sorts of nations."

He added that there has been no proposal that Canada take on such a job alone and that he will not discuss with Canadian leaders any possible Canadian contribution to a Palestine security force.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said any increase in Gen. Burns' truce team should be a matter for the governments concerned—Israel and the Arab states. There could be no attempt to impose such a plan on them.

Both he and Sir Anthony made plain that recommendations for a larger force should come directly from the United Nations.

Sir Anthony made these other points:

1. The more the West sticks together, the better chances of success in the cold war.

2. Trade between Canada and the United Kingdom can't grow unless there is a better balance of trade between the two countries.

WORTHWHILE TRIP

3. His visit to North America was "infinitely" worthwhile and his trip to Ottawa was of "immense value."

4. The British invitation to Premier Bulganin and Communist party secretary Krushchev of Russia to visit Britain this spring "stands."

5. Britain is obtaining views of other countries concerned on the Chinese communist proposal to hold a conference on Indo-China.

6. British recognition of Red China has been "useful—and not only to us."

Sir Anthony declined to reply to a question whether he would favor Canadian participation in the Palestine security force.

But he spoke highly, as he did in his address to Parliament Monday, of Canada's role in helping to preserve the armistice in Indo-China.

AGREED ON INCREASE

Sir Anthony noted Britain and the United States have said they are "very ready" to agree to a strengthening of Gen. Burns' force in Palestine.

Mr. Lloyd said there now are 40 to 60 truce observers under Gen. Burns. But they did not work in a preventive role.

But if Israel and the Arab states would each withdraw about a mile from the frontiers and if there were observers available to patrol this zone, there would be less chance of incidents occurring. Whether the observers should be armed would be up to the UN but it was the British view they should be unarmed.

Sir Anthony said that under the 1950 agreement Britain, the U.S. and France guaranteed the present Israeli-Arab boundaries. If agreement could be reached between Israel and the Arabs on new boundaries, the Big Three would be prepared to guarantee them.

Asked whether Israel should give up any of its territory as part of an agreement, Sir Anthony said that all he has stated is that there must be reconciliation and compromise between the two sides. He could not go beyond that.

Canada Unprepared For A-Attack--Simonds

Lack of Organizing National Manpower Criticized by Former Chief of Staff

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—Canada is hopelessly unprepared to meet the threat of an atomic attack because political leaders in this country will not face up to the problem of organizing national manpower, Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, former chief of the Canadian general staff, said Monday night.

Simonds blamed the country's lack of leadership in preparing for an emergency on the "sad history" of Quebec's opposition in the past to conscription. He said there is no political leader of any party in Canada who will come out and stand for organization of national manpower.

"If there is going to be leadership, it must come from you the people—from the country itself," he said in a speech to the Men's Canadian Club.

Simonds said the idea of not provoking an issue with Quebec on the question now, because Quebecers would rally to the defence of Canada in an emergency, was a "false argument."

The former army chief said the differences between the Communist countries and the western powers were "irreconcilable," and "peaceful co-existence can only be a form of armed truce."

Simonds said a lot of trouble in Canada in the past had been caused by a "bigoted group among English-speaking Canadians," which was not prepared to accept the French-speaking Canadian "as he is."

Simonds said that from his own observation, French-Canadians in the army were "first class."

"They have a right to follow their own culture and religious habits as they wish," he said. "I believe given this freedom, the resistance (to conscription) will disappear."

He said that Canada is confronted "with the choice of national disunity or national survival."

Riots in Cyprus

NICOSIA Cyprus (Reuters)—British troops fought a pitched battle with student rioters in Famagusta again today, killing an 18-year-old youth when they opened fire to restore order.

Dulles Firm Against Arms To Israel

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today stood firm against strong congressional pressure on him to approve new U.S. arms shipments to Israel.

Dulles, answering an open letter from 40 house Republicans and a separate request from 86 Democrats urging the arms sales, said sending weapons to Israel would be no cure-all for the problem of peace in the Middle East.

Dulles emphasized he was not ruling out the possibility that the United States eventually may grant Israel's request. But, he said, "it is our belief that the security of states in the Near East cannot rest upon arms alone but rather upon the international rule of law and upon the establishment of friendly relations among neighbors."

FDR's Son Asks U.S. to Guarantee Palestine Borders

VANCOUVER (BUP) — The eldest son of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt said members of the U.S. House of Representatives were preparing a petition today asking President Eisenhower to guarantee the borders of Israel.

Rep. James Roosevelt (D, Calif.) spoke to some 1,000 people at Vancouver's Beth Israel Synagogue to wind up a "State of Israel" bond drive.

Roosevelt said Eisenhower would also be urged to allow Israel to buy $50,000,000 worth of armaments from the United States.

U.K.'s Nye To Get Heave-Ho For 'Indiscreet' Speeches?

By RONALD A. NICKERSON

OTTAWA (BUP) — Parliament Hill buzzed today with rumors that Sir Archibald Nye, Britain's high commissioner here, might be recalled because of "indiscretions" creating a coolness between him and the Canadian government.

Reports circulated that a Nye speech made to the Montreal Women's Canadian Club last week was discussed in private talks Monday by British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson.

The speech received little coverage by the press. Copies of it were scarce and it was reliably learned that it took Pearson himself 48 hours to get a copy of it after it had been delivered, whereas the normal practice is for advance copies to be made available to his department.

Among remarks made by Nye in the speech he made essentially the same one later at Quebec City—were these:

"It is almost universally believed that those Western powers who did not recognize the new Chinese government made a great mistake.

CHARGES DISCRIMINATION

"It is constantly stressed . . . that the Communist government in China is indisputably the government of China and . . . to withhold recognition is wholly contrary to diplomatic practice as we have known it for hundreds of years and therefore amounts to nothing more or less than discrimination.

"It is held that non-recognition is a foolish policy.

"Asia is a bubbling, seething cauldron.

"Siam is a thoroughly unstable country.

"Indonesia is in chaos.

"Pakistan is extremely unstable.

"It is anybody's guess what will become of Indo-China.

"Japan is a bewildered country which has lost its faith.

"India is . . . (perhaps) the most stable country in Asia, due very largely to the trained administrators left behind by the British regime in 1947."

Nye's speech was given during the time Eden and Lloyd were holding talks in Washington with President Eisenhower and other U.S. leaders. It also came at the same time that a foreign affairs debate was going on in the House of Commons here.

Nye's excursion into the realm of policy matters—with recognition of Red China particularly a hot political issue in both Canada and the United States—was regarded by government sources here as "highly improper" for one in his position.

Nye's utterances on political questions — traditionally soft-pedalled by diplomats away from home—could easily hasten his departure from the Canadian capital, most observers believed.

The frigid silence of the East Block lent strong credence to the reports.

Chin-Strap On Cap Kills Burnaby Boy

By BRITISH UNITED PRESS

Six persons have lost their lives in various types of mishaps throughout British Columbia in the past 36 hours.

The deaths included that of a New Westminster logger accidentally shot at Deep Cove; a 5½-year-old North Burnaby boy who accidentally hanged himself by the chin strap of his leather cap; a domestic gas victim in Vancouver; a five-month-old Vancouver child; an apparent heart attack victim at Vancouver, and a Prince George tractor operator.

At Deep Cove, the RCMP reported that a 27-year-old New Westminster logger apparently accidentally shot and killed himself Monday.

The victim was not immediately identified pending notification of next of kin.

Police said the victim and a companion were aboard a 30-foot fishing boat and the logger was shooting at targets in the water when the accident occurred.

HANGED BY CAP

Roger Fairfax, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Fairfax, was playing in a shed with a group of children. When he fell his leather cap snagged a nail protruding from a rafter and the child was strangled by the chin strap before he could be released.

In Vancouver, 72-year-old Mrs. A. Rees was found dead Monday, apparently a victim of domestic gas poisoning in her home. And the five-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Parker was found dead in his baby carriage from undetermined causes.

Alexander M. Leither was found dead in his downtown Vancouver room Monday, and it was believed to died from a heart attack.

Police at Prince George reported a 36-year-old tractor operator was killed when he fell in front of his machine Sunday near Longworth, B.C. Identification was temporarily withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

Father Jailed For Tragic Fire

DUNCAN — Joseph Daniel George, 36, father of a 19-month-old child which lost its life when the George home was destroyed by fire on Nov. 19, was sentenced to six months in jail today by Magistrate A. C. Sutton.

The court case was an aftermath of "accidental death" verdict returned by a coroner's jury at the inquest into the baby's death at the time.

When arraigned in court Monday George pleaded guilty to a charge of "exposing a child under the age of 10 years whereby its life was in danger."

It is believed that George was charged on instructions from the attorney-general's department to the Duncan detachment of the RCMP following an interchange of letters between Ottawa and Victoria.

At the inquest, the father admitted to leaving his three children, aged six, five and 19 months, alone while he and his wife went into Duncan. He learned his house was on fire from a taxi driver and when he arrived at his home only charred rafters were left.

George had told the inquest jury that he had left the six-year-old girl to "take care of things."

J. Boys, Indian superintendent here, informed the magistrate that George had been warned before about leaving his children alone.

Mother Dies After Refusing Blood On Advice of Witness Leader

EAGLEHART, Ont. (CP) — Denied vital blood transfusions by religious principles, a young mother of five children died Monday of internal bleeding.

Mrs. James Grant, 29-year-old farm wife of a Jehovah's Witness, refused to accept a blood transfusion after a car crash Sunday night. Her husband, also injured in the crash, said he could not violate his religious tenets unless his spiritual leader approved.

Farmer Lionel Anyan, Witness leader in this community near Kirkland Lake, was urged by a sister and the mother of the severely injured woman to permit a transfusion. He declined.

"I cannot go against my faith," he told Mrs. Clara Rock, the woman's mother.

Mr. Anyan told reporters he made his decision on the basis of the biblical admonition "Ye shall eat no manner of blood." Leviticus 7:26.

Anyan said Mrs. Grant made "a wonderful decision" and added: "She realized that if she were to save her life with a blood transfusion, then she would lose her life at Armagedon."

Mrs. Grant's sister, Mrs. T. J. Brown, said a doctor told her the injured woman "could have been saved by blood transfusions."

An inquest is to be held Wednesday.

In Toronto, Dr. Glenn Sawyer of the Ontario Medical Association said today Mrs. Grant was "perfectly justified" in her refusal to have a transfusion.

"Patients are entitled to take or refuse treatment and doctors must abide by their decision," he said.

Percy Chapman, superintendent of ministers and evangelists for the Witnesses of Jehovah, said: "It should be made plain that our views on blood are not simply whims of Jehovah's Witnesses. God's word, in the Bible, is very clear on this matter.

"We will abide by that law, even if others regard it as foolish."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

FOR THE GIFT of speech we thank Thee, O God. Each day we have opportunity to speak words of truth and sympathy. Christ has told us that by our words we shall be justified or condemned. We fear the penalty of our idle words. May the meditations of our hearts be so pure that our words may be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, our strength and our redeemer; in Christ's name. Amen.

Sturdy Stands Behind Action

Vancouver Lawyer Files Defence In Sommers Suit for Libel

Vancouver lawyer David A. Sturdy Monday filed statement of defence in the Sommers-Sturdy libel and slander action.

The statement of defence was filed in Supreme Court registry at Vancouver.

It alleges statements Mr. Sturdy made before Chief Justice Gordon Sloan's royal commission on forestry were true and made without malice.

The statement further contends the appearance before the Sloan commission was an occasion of qualified privilege. It sets out Mr. Sturdy's defence in detail, on three and one-half typewritten pages.

Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers has filed suit against Mr. Sturdy, claiming damages for alleged libel and slander, for statements made before the Sloan commission.

Mr. Sturdy's statement of defence asks dismissal of the action, and costs.

Poultrymen Face Threat Says Kiernan

VANCOUVER (CP)—Agriculture Minister W. K. Kiernan said today that pending higher rail rates on feed grain threaten the existence of the British Columbia poultry industry.

Mr. Kiernan presented written submissions to the board of transport commissioner inquiry headed by J. D. Kierney.

"Unless domestic grain rates are maintained at rock-bottom level, it is obvious the industry will disappear," Mr. Kiernan said.

The inquiry was ordered after B.C., Vancouver, the Federation of Agriculture and other interests protested a 10-per-cent boost on prairie-coast feed grain rates. The new rate was originally scheduled to take effect Jan. 1.

The inquiry is being attended by counsel for the railways, all four western provincial governments, and the Alberta and Saskatchewan wheat pools.

First of two equal increases sought by the railways, the new rate was held up pending outcome of the inquiry.

Chin-Strap On Cap Kills Burnaby Boy

By BRITISH UNITED PRESS

Six persons have lost their lives in various types of mishaps throughout British Columbia in the past 36 hours.

The deaths included that of a New Westminster logger accidentally shot at Deep Cove; a 5½-year-old North Burnaby boy who accidentally hanged himself by the chin-strap of his leather cap; a domestic gas victim in Vancouver; a five-month-old Vancouver child; an apparent heart attack victim at Vancouver, and a Prince George tractor operator.

At Deep Cove, the RCMP reported that a 27-year-old New Westminster logger apparently accidentally shot and killed himself Monday.

The victim was not immediately identified pending notification of next of kin.

Police said the victim and a companion were aboard a 30-foot fishing boat and the logger was shooting at targets in the water when the accident occurred.

HANGED BY CAP

Roger Fairfax, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Fairfax, was playing in a shed with a group of children. When he fell his leather cap snagged a nail protruding from a rafter and the child was strangled by the chin strap before he could be released.

In Vancouver, 72-year-old Mrs. A. Rees was found dead Monday, apparently a victim of domestic gas poisoning in her home. And the five-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Parker was found dead in his baby carriage from undetermined causes.

Alexander M. Leither was found dead in his downtown Vancouver room Monday, and it was believed he died from a heart attack.

Canada Unprepared For A-Attack--Simonds

Failure to Organize Nation's Manpower Criticized by Former Chief of Staff

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—Canada is hopelessly unprepared to meet the threat of an atomic attack because political leaders in this country will not face up to the problem of organizing national manpower, Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, former chief of the Canadian general staff, said Monday night.

Simonds blamed the country's lack of leadership in preparing for an emergency on the "sad history" of Quebec's opposition in the past to conscription. He said there is no political leader of any party in Canada who will come out and stand for organization of national manpower.

"If there is going to be leadership, it must come from you the people—from the country itself," he said in a speech to the Men's Canadian Club.

Simonds said the idea of not provoking an issue with Quebec on the question now, because Quebecers would rally to the defence of Canada in an emergency, was a "false argument."

The former army chief said the differences between the Communist countries and the western powers were "irreconcilable," and "peaceful co-existence can only be a form of armed truce."

Simonds said a lot of trouble in Canada in the past had been caused by a "bigoted group among English-speaking Canadians," which was not prepared to accept the French-speaking Canadian "as he is."

Simonds said that from his own observation, French-Canadians in the army were "first class."

"They have a right to follow their own culture and religious habits as they wish," he said. "I believe given this freedom, the resistance (to conscription) will disappear."

He said that Canada is confronted "with the choice of national disunity or national survival."

Mollet in New Bid To Restore Peace In Stormy Algeria

ALGERIS (AP)—France's Premier Guy Mollet made new bids today for peace in Algeria.

The premier scheduled day-long conferences today in his effort to reconcile Algerian nationalist demands for freedom with French residents' opposition to any self-government for the Moslem natives.

Monday night a crowd of about 1,500 demonstrators, mostly students, attempted to enter the summer palace where Mollet is staying. Police used tear gas to force the rioters back.

Eden Calls for UN To Police Palestine

LONDON (UP)—The United States, Britain and France will open negotiations in Washington Wednesday on joint action for bringing peace to the Middle East, the Foreign Office announced today.

The Foreign Office said the talks would be at ambassador level. The meeting was arranged during the recent conference between Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and President Eisenhower.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Eden today proposed an unarmed, multi-nation force under the United Nations to help oversee the truce in Palestine.

He told a press conference that if the 50-man truce team in Palestine under Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Ottawa is enlarged, it is the British view that the observers be recruited from "all sorts of nations."

He added that there has been no proposal that Canada take on such a job alone and that he will not discuss with Canadian leaders any possible Canadian contribution to a Palestine security force.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said any increase in Gen. Burns' truce team should be a matter for the governments concerned—Israel and the Arab states. There could be no attempt to impose such a plan on them.

Both he and Sir Anthony made plain that recommendations for a larger force should come directly from the United Nations.

Sir Anthony made these other points:

1. The more the West sticks together, the better chances of success in the cold war.

2. Trade between Canada and the United Kingdom can't grow unless there is a better balance of trade between the two countries.

WORTHWHILE TRIP

3. His visit to North America was "infinitely" worthwhile and his trip to Ottawa was of "immense value."

4. The British invitation to Premier Bulganin and Communist party secretary Khrushchev of Russia to visit Britain this spring "stands."

5. Britain is obtaining views

Father Jailed For Fatal Fire

DUNCAN — Joseph Daniel George, 36, father of a 19-month-old child which lost its life when the George home was destroyed by fire on Nov. 19, was sentenced to six months in jail today by Magistrate A. C. Sutton.

The court case was an aftermath of "accidental death" verdict returned by a coroner's jury at the inquest into the baby's death at the time.

When arraigned in court Monday George pleaded guilty to a charge of "exposing a child under the age of 10 years whereby its life was in danger."

It is believed that George was charged on instructions from the attorney-general's department to the Duncan detachment of the RCMP following an interchange of letters between Ottawa and Victoria.

At the inquest, the father admitted to leaving his three children, aged six, five and 19 months, alone while he and his wife went into Duncan. He learned his house was on fire from a taxi driver and when he arrived at his home only charred rafters were left.

George had told the inquest jury that he had left the six-year-old girl to "take care of things."

J. Boys, Indian superintendent here, informed the magistrate that George had been warned before about leaving his children alone.

Mother Dies After Refusing Blood On Advice of Witness Leader

ENGLEHART, Ont. (CP) — Denied vital blood transfusions by religious principles, a young mother of five children died Monday of internal bleeding.

Mrs. James Grant, 29-year-old farm wife of a Jehovah's Witness, refused to accept a blood transfusion after a car crash Sunday night. Her husband, also injured in the crash, said he could not violate his religious tenets unless his spiritual leader approved.

Farmer Lionel Anyan, Witness leader in this community near Kirkland Lake, was urged by a sister and the mother of the severely injured woman to permit a transfusion. He declined.

"I cannot go against my faith," he told Mrs. Clara Rock, the woman's mother.

Mr. Anyan told reporters he made his decision on the basis of the biblical admonition "Ye shall eat no manner of blood." (Leviticus 7.26.)

Anyan said Mrs. Grant made "a wonderful decision" and added: "She realized that if she were to save her life with a blood transfusion, then she would lose her life at Armagedon."

Mrs. Grant's sister, Mrs. T. J. Brown, said a doctor told her the injured woman "could have been saved by blood transfusions."

An inquest is to be held Wednesday.

In Toronto, Dr. Glenn Sawyer of the Ontario Medical Association said today Mrs. Grant was "perfectly justified" in her refusal to have a transfusion.

"Patients are entitled to take or refuse treatment and doctors must abide by their decision," he said.

Percy Chapman, superintendent of ministers and evangelists for the Witnesses of Jehovah, said: "It should be made plain that our views on blood are not simply whims of Jehovah's Witnesses. God's word, in the Bible, is very clear on this matter.

"We will abide by that law, even if others regard it as foolish."

New Arms Cut Plan

LONDON (AP) — The Western allies have decided to present new plans for a global system of phased, controlled disarmament to Russia next month, British and American diplomatic officials reported tonight.

The proposals would include President Eisenhower's "open skies" project.
